FIFTIETH YEAR. NUMBER 130 | CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1933 | THREE CENTS

Did you Know

By Pat J. Kirwin

THAT the first organized fire department in Circleville was the Circleville Protection Co., established in January, 1828, "to protect the city's property in time of fire." Engines were not in vogue then, buckets being the sole reliance. The constitution provided that the officers of the company to be elected annually, should consist of five directors, a secretary and treasurer. The directors were called the first, second, third, etc., the first director being the commandant of the company. Each director coached a class of five persons "in the art of quickly extinguishing fires." The directors also purchased the necessary buckets and other apparatus including barrels and firemen's hats. The costs were paid by members of the company. The following early residents of the city subscribed to the constitution and made up the membership: James Bell, Matthew McCrea, John Groce, George Wildburn, Joseph Johnston, N. S. Gregg, Henry Ely, Jacob H. Lutz, William McCulloch, John Hedges, Sam Pickering, Matthew Littleton, John T. Davenport, Joseph Olds, Thomas and Levi Pedrick, William McArthur, George W. Glaze, William N. Luckey, Sam Rogers, G. W. Dean, Jacob Burget and Andrew Huston.

That the Y. M. C. A. movement started in Circleville in 1869 when the first local branch of the Young Men's Christian Association was organized on December 7 of that year. James Loughry was the first president. Headquarters were located at Wittich's Hall. Other officers were: Alfred William, 1st president; W. McCrum, 2nd president; Samuel Moore, treasurer; C. F. Krimmel, recording secretary; E. Z. Hays, corresponding secretary. A board of managers included W. B. Marfield, S. Knott, E. M. Schryver, E. B. Fletcher, S. Miller, G. W. Throne and M. Wittich.

That due to a lack of funds in the city treasury in June, 1823, to complete a ditch improvement, the citizens of the town banded together and performed the work. At the time there was a large ditch which surrounded the circle and it had filled up with water and had become stagnant. It was necessary that something be done in order to protect the health of the citizens of the town. The board of trustees of the city could find no way to obtain the money so the townspeople, rich and poor, offered their labor "for the purpose of draining off the ditch and rendering it dry and harmless." The improvement was completed in several weeks and papers of the time commented "that the laborers were proud of their labor."

That John J. Dresbach of this city in April, 1860, received by mail from the Island of Java, nearly 3.000 miles away, an alva pig, the first of such breed to reach Pickaway-co. It was neatly boxed up and received in good condition. The freight was only $8.

THAT the first iron bridge constructed across Hargus-creek on N. Court-st, was opened in December, 1869, and was proclaimed to be one of the finest structures on the Scioto-trail. The plan of the bridge, secured by a special patent, was known as the tangular arch and was constructed entirely of wrought iron. The span was about 50 feet. There were two roadways of 26 feet each and eight-foot footpaths on each side. The structure was made by Rezner, Stone and Co. of Cleveland and was put up by James S. Jenkins. This great step forward in bridge improvement was the joint work of the city council and the Columbus - Portsmouth Turnpike Co. Each paid half the expense.

Jimmy Mattern Attempts to Beat Post-Gatty World Record

FLIES LOCKHEED

Leaves Floyd Bennett Field at 5:21 A. M.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Hoping to eclipse the round-the-world flight record of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, Jimmy Mattern hopped off at 5:21 a. m. today from Floyd Bennett field, Brooklyn, on his long deferred globe-girdling dash.

Flying alone in the "Century of Progress," the Lockheed plane in which he and Bennett Griffin attempted a world-circling flight last year, Mattern hoped to cover the 15,561 mile route in about six days, making nine stops. Post and Gatty made their world circuit in 8 days and 15 hours.

Loaded with 705 gallons of gas, the plane soared away into the east after a 2,500 foot run.

OVER GREAT CIRCLE

Mattern planned to follow the Great Circle route over the Atlantic and was expected to make his first stop at Paris. From there he will hop for Berlin and continue on to Moscow, technical advisers said.

Weather conditions were said to be excellent all the way across the ocean.

"Give me a good wind and half a dozen oranges — I'm off," the aviator said to o[illegible] of the air field. He got bo[illegible] after a final inspection of h[illegible] climbed in and sent the [illegible] roaring down the runway of the first leg of the flight.

Baccalaureate Is Sunday

Graduates of High School to Attend Rites at Methodist Church

MUSIC IS PLANNED

"Have You The Password?" is Subject

Baccalaureate services for the 1933 graduating class of Circleville high school will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the First Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. C. H. Eichinger, the church's pastor, announced Saturday that other pastors will have parts in the service.

Special music has been arranged by the M. E. choir, under the direction of Mrs. J. P. Moffit, with Hunter Chambers as organist. The vested choir will be augmented by Carlisle Moffit, Columbus baritone, with the Monday Club quartet having a part in the program.

After Mr. Chambers' prelude the choir will take its place singing the processional, "God of Our Fathers" by Warren. The members of the graduating class will follow the choir into the church. Mr. Moffit's initial part of the program will follow, a solo, "It is Enough" from Mendelssohn's Elijah.

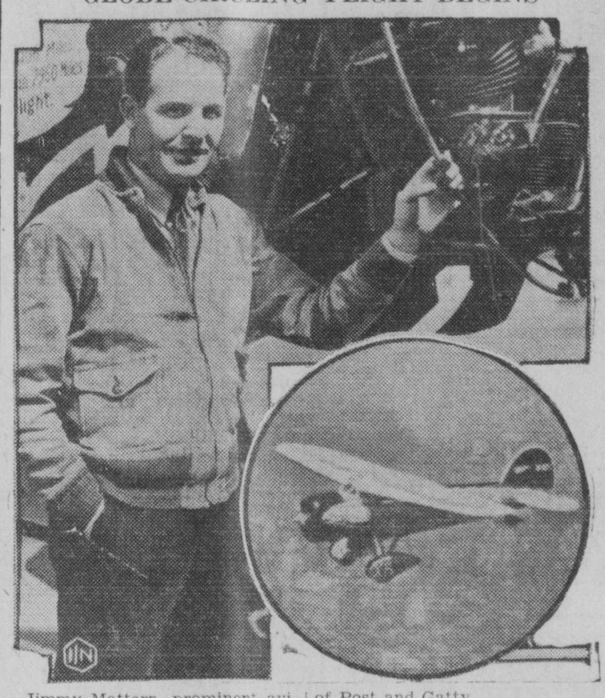
Rev. E. S. Toensmeier, of the First Presbyterian church, will offer a prayer with the choir's anthem "Saviour When Night Involves the Sky" by Shelley to be rendered. Mr. Moffit has a baritone solo in this selection.

Rev. L. C. Sherburne of St. Philip's Episcopal church will lead in scripture reading to be followed by the Monday Club quartet's selection "God is My Guide" by Schubert. Members of the quartet are Mrs. Clark Will, Miss Helen B. Marion, Mrs. Evan Reicheldorfer and Mrs. Moffit.

Rev. Eichinger's sermon "How You the Password?" will then be heard.

The senior class song will be sung by the graduates with remarks by Rev. L. D. Young of the Church of the Brethren and the benediction by Rev. C. W. Ruhlman of the Evangelical church. The graduates will follow the choir from the church.

GLOBE-CIRCLING FLIGHT BEGINS



Jimmy Mattern, prominent aviator, began a flight, Saturday morning, in which he hopes to shatter the round-the-world record of Post and Gatty.

Mattern is flying alone and plans his first leg over the Great Circle route over the North Atlantic.

Eight Arrested In Kidnap Plot

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 3—Speedy prosecution was promised by authorities today for the gang under arrest as the abductors of Miss Mary McElroy, daughter of City Manager H. F. McElroy. The girl was kidnaped from her home here last Saturday and released on payment of $30,000 ransom.

Five persons, including two women, were being hurried here by airplane from Amarillo, Tex., in the custody of two Kansas City detectives and Federal Investigator R. E. Vetterli. Three were in jail here, according to Clarence Click of Kansas City.

Walter H. McGee, arrested in Amarillo with $9,291 in large denomination bills on his person, was described by police as the leader of the gang that abducted Miss McElroy. McGee admitted the cash was "kidnap money" but denied all knowledge of the McElroy abduction.

PICTURE IDENTIFIED

Shown photographs of McGee, Miss McElroy, her father and brother identified him as the man who took a leading part in the abduction.

Eugene G. Reppert, director of police, announced the house in which the girl was held captive for 30 hours has been located in a suburban area between Kansas City and Shawnee, Kas.

McGee had worked here as a truck driver, according to police, and is an ex-convict from the Oregon state penitentiary at Salem. He is sought in Kansas for several bank robberies, authorities said.

Reppert disclosed that he learned the identities of the suspects Monday. McGee and his four companions, Wendell Johnson and his wife and L. R. Gilbert and his wife, were located through an intercepted telegram to a Leavenworth junk dealer regarding the purchase of a new automobile.

AVIATOR, WIFE READY TO HOP

Mollison, Amy Johnson Plan to Establish Three New Records

LONDON, June 3.—James A. Mollison and his wife, the former Amy Johnson, primier British aviators, announced definite plans today to leave Croydon aerodrome at 11 a. m. Monday on the first flight direct from London to New York.

The flight is planned as the first leg of an attempted 12,000 mile jaunt. The Mollisons hope to make the first flight direct from New York to London, and then intend to turn around and fly direct to Bagdad. The itineray then calls for a non-stop jump from Bagdad to London.

If the flight goes according to schedule, the Mollisons will hang up three new records. One will be the first London to New York flight, another the first double crossing of the Athletic and the third a new long distance non-stop record from New York to Bagdad.

The couple has already written wills in the event of possible disaster, although they are confident of succes. The flight will be made in a black monoplane named 'The Seafarer" which Mollison has jocularly dubbed the 'Flying Coffin."

BOY BREAKS ARM

John Neuding, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Neuding of 514 Elm-ave, suffered a fracture of the left arm at the wrist at 5 p. m. Friday when he tripped and fell while playing in the backyard of his home.

Dr. D. V. Courtright attended the injury.

MULDOON IS DEAD

PURCHASE, N. Y., June 3.—William Muldoon, 88-year-old dean of the New York state athletic commission, died at his home at 4:40 this morning.

Muldoon had been gradually failing in health for the last two years. Only a few days ago he celebrated his birthday but was too weak to give out his annual interview on health and sports.

He had lost weight rapidly within the last year and appeared only a shadow of the man who was once a famous wrestler and who handled John L. Sullivan.

POPE PIUS IRED BY SPANISH LAW

VATICAN CITY, June 3.— An encyclical letter vigorously protesting against the new anti-religious laws in Spain was issued by Pope Pius XI today.

"Now that Spain has passed its law concerning confessions and religious congregations," the Pontiff wrote, "I must raise my voice anew. The law comprises a new and even more serious attack against religion and the church, as well as those accepted principles of civic freedom upon which the new Spanish regime pretends to base itself."

'ARMY' YOUTHS LEAVE SUNDAY FOR FAR WEST

Kenneth Henn Writes Telling Contingent to Leave Fort Knox

FRESNO IS OBJECT

Officers and Camp Life Lauded in Letter

Pickaway-co's 45 youths in the reforestation army will leave Sunday morning for Fresno, California, according to a communication received here Saturday from Kenneth Henn, local youth, and reporter for The Herald in the forest army outfit.

Henn's Saturday letter said "We have just received word to be ready to leave Sunday, June 4, for California. We have also been informed that our outfit is the best in this area of about 2,500 members."

The communication lauded the camp's officers and praised the entire operation of the forest army set-up at least as far as Fort Knox, Ky., is concerned. Local persons who wish to write to Circleville and Pickaway-co boys in the camp should address their communications in care of Company 587.

RUMOR CONFIRMED

It was reported earlier in the week by Doyle Hulse, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hulse, Jackson-twp, that rumors were circulating that the outfit was to go to California but the rumor was unconfirmed until Henn's letter was received.

The contingent will be centered in one of California's rugged national parks.

"We are having a great time in camp," Henn wrote. We are having lots of fun and little work. We got our first taste of action Thursday when we chopped wood for the cooking tents.

"Our officers are swell fellows and after we leave here it is reported we will have only some of our own men for officers. Will write about the trip to California after we get there."

7 DEAD IN BLAST, FIRE

Rich Signal Hill Oil Refinery Scene of Terrific Explosion

LONG BEACH, Cal., June 3.—Seven persons were known dead, four were missing, and property damage was estimated at $2,500,000 today in a terrific oil refinery blast and fire in the Rich Signal Hill oil field here.

The entire Signal Hill district was menaced yesterday by an explosion and fire that destroyed the $1,000,000 Richfield Oil company absorption plant.

The roar was heard in Los Angeles and other cities thirty miles away, and widespread alarm was created in those cities and in Long Beach and other coast cities that another earthquake had struck.

Firemen controlled the fire after it had raged for four hours, destroying 20 oil derricks, totally demolishing 10 homes in the north Long Beach residential district, and materially damaging 75 or 80 other residences.

Near the absorption plant 12 1,000-barrel oil tanks went up in flames with the fuel they contained.

E. S. Roper, of Pinckney-st, returned to his home Saturday after an operation at Dr. C. G. Stewart's office ten days ago.

STADIUM FALL KILLS BOY, 16

Paulding Delegate Falls 109 From O. S. U. Football Stadium During Night

COLUMBUS, June 3.—Claire Arend, 16-year-old Paulding, O., schoolboy delegate to the Ohio Future Farmers' convention here, today plunged 109 feet to his death from the top of the Ohio State University football stadium.

The body of the boy, badly crushed, was found by Ralph Sturgeon of Caldwell, another delegate to the convention.

Police, investigating the fatal accident, said that some of the 1,800 boys attending the future farmers' meeting were quartered last night at the stadium. Reports were being checked that Arend fell while he and several others were walking around the top of the stadium during the night.

Pickaway-co Future Farmers taking part in the judging contests, according to G. D. Bradley, county instructor, included Earle and Hay Carter, George Fisher and Harold Hott, of Jaskson-twp; Clarence Miller, Harold Anderson, Howard Carroll, Charles Kreisel, Jack Rhodes, Maurice Jury, Nelson Warner and John Miller of Pickaway-twp. Other boys who made the trip include Berlin Cotterall, Walter Cotterall, Phillip Wilson, Robert Vandervort, Junior Mowery, Harold Riffel and Weldon Leist.

Nine judging contests include live stock, dairy cattle, sheep, poultry, wool, meat, milk, agricultural engineering and corps.

Besides judging the youths are enjoying trips through various points of interest in Columbus.

CITY POLITICS 'BUZZ'; FILING DATE IS NEAR

Deadline for Filing Petitions is Next Friday at 6:30 P. M.

MANY UNDECIDED

Citizens League to Fill Council Slate

Political activity in the city was expected to increase early next week with the deadline at hand for petitions declaring candidacy to be filed. All petitions must be in the hands of Harry E. Weill, clerk of the board of elections, not later than 6:30 p. m. next Friday June 9.

The primary will be August 8.

Several potential candidates have not declared their intentions and several who were considering seeking nomination have decided not to go through with their plans for various reasons.

As the situation now stands there will be only two candidates for mayor with no contest at either the Democratic or Republican primaries. William B. Cady, defeated two years ago for the Democratic nomination by George M. Fitzpatrick, has filed his petition for the nomination and so has Mayor B. T. Hedges, seeking a fourth term on the Republican ticket.

SEVERAL IN QUANDRY

Several men have been studying the outlook and are still wavering, not determined which way to go. Little time remains for them to settle their debates.

A contest over council jobs was seen today when it was learned Vattier Courtright, representative of the Citizens League, had obtained five petitions from Mr. Weill to be placed in the hands of candidates for council seats. As a result a scrap with utilities on one side and the municipal-ownership plan on the other may ensue in the primary.

Just which of the present councilmen will be supported by the league has not been disclosed. Several of the councilmen have petitions but as yet have not filed them.

REID IN FIELD

William M. Reid, E. Union-st, former school teacher, is the only avowed candidate in the field for council. He now has his petition ready to file. He will oppose Tull M. Barnes for councilman from the fourth ward. Mr. Barnes has his petition signed and ready to be filed but has not yet placed it in the hands of Mr. Weill.

No opposition has been heard against either Miss Lillian Young, auditor; Lawrence J. Johnson, treasurer, and Carl C. Leist, who is seeking the office of solicitor now held by Paul E. Adkins who does not plan to again ask the nomination.

A hot fight is seen for the job as justice of peace of the township, which office is now held by E. C. Friece. Three others have papers in circulation and are expected to file for the office.

Members of city council, none of whom have expressed their intentions include; John C. Goeller, president; C. O. Leist, first ward; Julius Helwagen, second ward; Clark Will, third ward; Mr. Barnes, fourth ward; E. S. Neuding, Mack Parrett Jr., and Frank Marion, councilmen-at-large.

MORE SOLDIER PAY INCLUDED IN BILL

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A $170,000,000 boost in veterans' compensation was thrown into conference today, following senate passage of the 1934 independent officers appropriation bill at a night session.

The increase brought the total of the bill to more than $710,000,000.

The amendment making necessary an additional appropriation for veterans' relief was offered by Senator Connally (D) of Texas. Administration leaders supported it as a more drastic amendment by Senator Trammell (D) of Florida.

COW OR DONKEY AND COW IT IS

It was either the mule or the cow, so Frank Valentine, Pickaway-twp, picked the cow.

He was driving in Saltcreek-twp near the Dreisbach church, at dusk Friday evening, when in starting down over a hill he saw a cow and a mule being walked down the road by Thad Hill, Saltcreek-twp. Mr. Valentine saw that he must hit one of the animals so he picked the cow.

Two appraisers were to be named to value it when its leg was broken.

K. OF P. PLANNING MEMORIAL SERIVICE

W. F. Bruce, Mt. Gilead, to Deliver Address; Parade to Cemetery Planned

W. F. Bruce, of Mont Gilead, a Past Grand Chancellor and now Supreme Representative of the Supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias, will be the principal speaker when Philos lodge No.64, observes its Memorial day on Sunday, June 11. The time is 2 p. m.

Mr. Bruce besides his activities in the lodge is president of the Mt. Gilead National Bank.

An added feature of the event will be a parade from the lodge home to Forest cemetery. The high school band, under the leadership of Prof. C. F. Zaenglein, will lead the line of march and will also furnish music for the service.

BUSINESS UP

CLEVELAND, June 3—Terming the present, widespread industrial improvement as "the sharpest advance in trade operations since the depression began," the monthly business review of the fourth federal district today declared that promises for the future "are more favorable than for months."

An encouraging factor of the report, which covers Ohio, West Virginia and parts of Pennsylvania and Kentucky, was found in the statement that many hitherto stagnant fields of industry joined in the grand parade toward prosperity.

COUNTY VISITING BOARD SELECTED

Judge C. C. Young announced Saturday that he had completed appointment of a county visiting board with the selection of Harry G. Stevenson.

The board consists of T. F. Jeffries and Mrs. Charles H. May, terms expiring May 1, 1934; Mrs. E. S. Neuding and Harp Van Riper, terms expiring May 1, 1935, and Mrs. H. H. Groce and Mr. Stevenson, terms ending May 1, 1936.

According to law the board must consist of three men and three women, three Democrats and three Republicans.

The board must visit all county-supported institutions once every three months, file reports with the probate judge and make recommendations to the county commissioners.

The visiting board has not been active in the last few years but now is expected to make its regular visits and reports.

FIRE THREATENS POWHATAN TODAY

POWHATAN, June 3.—Threatening for a time to spread into Powhatan's business district, fire today completely destroyed two dwellings here and forced their residents to flee to the street in night clothing.

The fire started in the home occupied by Mrs. John Kovach and spread to the nearby house of Andy Sakey before fire-fighting equipment could be rushed here from Bellaire and Shadeside to bring the flames under control.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Auditorium Crowded For Hi School Music Program

Audience Praises Work of Four Instrumental Units of School

The large and appreciative audience that packed the Circleville high school auditorium Friday evening to see and hear four school musical organizations, all of which have been developed during the past three years, was loud in its praise of the efforts of C. F. Zaenglein, the director, who has furnished the stimulus for a revived interest in music never before known here.

The four units, the junior band, junior orchestra, high school band and high school orchestra, provided a program that was thoroughly pleasing to all in attendance. Under the ever-effective baton of Mr. Zaenglein, the musical units were always responsive to the guidance of the director and each selection was played without noticeable error.

GRINER FEATURES

Special mention should be given Ned Griner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griner of E. Franklin-st, and one of Mr. Zaenglein's accomplished musicians who directed the junior orchestra in all of its selections. Griner exhibited unusual ability in handling the group, especially since it must be remembered that members of the junior orchestra are beginners.

The junior orchestra was organized during the past year and if it continues to make such rapid progress the high school group will be forced to improve to keep ahead of it.

Approximately 30 members make up the junior orchestra. The following program was offered by this unit, march, Friendship; overture, White Queen; caprice, Dancing Moonbeams, and march, East vs. West.

Evidence that the high school orchestra becomes a bigger and better unit as each year rolls by, was seen last evening. A number of persons who have watched the orchestra grow for a number of

Dear Parents, Grandparents, Aunts and Uncles:

A Vacation Bible School should be just what its name emplies—a happy pleasant vacation school where children may learn to know and love the Bible, the Heavenly Father and their Savior Jesus Christ.

The main purpose of our school will be to teach the children in an interesting appealing way and in a language that they can really understand those Bible truths which are necessary for the real foundation of Christian character. For this reason the Bible story period will be the main feature each day, the music memory work, Bible expression and handwork will be co-ordinated with and related to the Bible story period and each will have a definite religious value.

The school opens this Tuesday June 6 at 8:30 a. m. in Parish house. The following course will be offered:

Bible Story Period, Object Lesson Period, Construction Work Period, Know Your Bible Period, Music Period, Recreation Period, and a Novelty Period consisting of Biblical Games, Pictures, Puzzles and Dramatization.

As is evident this school will be strictly religious. Open to all children between the ages of 4 and 16.

No admission charges and no other expenses. A corps of competent teachers will be on hand to give their services.

Parents and relatives are you not desirous to see these little buds of ours unfolding their lives under the warm sunlight of God's love and care, forming into beautiful fragrant flowers in God's garden of souls and making true disciples to follow and serve Jesus their master with a pure and holy Christian life. Yours in the Lord's cause.

This is Pentecost Sunday-the birthday of the Christian Church. From what a small beginning has grown this mighty organization of the Christian Church which now embraces, nominally at least, half the world in its membership. It is still a virile and conquering organization. Its message reaches men in their deepest needs. It alone touches men in their sin and need of forgiveness. Wherever Jesus Christ is known he is hailed as the ideal and leader of our humanity. this regardless of country or local religion. By him all actions are judged. The day is coming when nations and individuals will stand before his judgment seat. As the leader he invites our allegiance. Go to church tomorrow. Take a friend.

Jones was hurrying along a street one night, when another man, also in violent haste, rushed out from a side street and the two collided with great force.

The second man looked angry, but Jones, with his native courtesy, raised his hat and said:

"My dear sir, I do not know which of us is to blame for this collision, but I am in too great hurry to investigate. If I ran into you, I beg your pardon; if you ran into me, don't mention it!"

Then he tore away at redoubled speed.

The Church Invites You

Theodore Roosevelt and the Church

Theodore Roosevelt once said, "Every churchless community is on the downgrade. Church membership cultivates the feeling of responsibility for others."

"You may not hear a great sermon. You will hear a message from a man who is trying to make hard lives a little easier. You will hear read some beautiful passages from the Scriptures. If you miss these you will suffer a great loss."

"There are plenty of holidays. On the Sabbath go to church." Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

Lesson for June 4

JESUS FACES BETRAYAL AND DENIAL

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:10-72.

GOLDEN TEXT—He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. Isaiah 53:3.

PRIMARY TOPIC — Jesus and Peter.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Lord's Supper.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Loyalty in Times of Testing.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Fellowship of His Sufferings.

I. Judas' Bargain With the Chief Priests (vv. 10, 11).

This black crime was committed immediately following the beautiful act of devotion by Mary (John 12:1).

II. The Last Passover (vv. 12:25).

1. The preparation (vv. 12-16). In reply to the inquiry of the disciples as to where they should prepare the Passover for him, Jesus told them to go into the city where they would meet a man bearing a pitcher of water, whom they should follow. In the house, to which they would be led, would be a guest chamber, a large uper room, where they should make ready the Passover.

2. The betrayal announced (vv. 17-21). The betrayal was to be by one of the disciples who was eating with Jesus.

3. The sacrament of the bread and cup (vv. 22-25). These were smybols of his broken body and shed blood by which he made atonement for man's sins.

III. Jesus Foretells the Cowardice of the Disciples (vv. 26-31).

In spite of their turning from him, Jesus assured them that after his resurrection he would go before them into Galilee. Peter assured Jesus that he would not forsake him.

IV. The Agony in Gethsemane (vv. 32-42).

1. Jesus Christ's agony (vv. 32-34).

a. The place (v. 32). The Garden of Gethsemane, an enclosure containing olive and fig trees, beyond the brook Kidron, about three-fourths of a mile from Jerusalem. Gethsemane means olive press. Edersheim says it is an emblem of trial, distress and agony.

b. His companions (v. 33). He took with him the eleven disciples, that as far as possible they might share his sorrow with him.

c. His great sorrow (v. 34). This is the same "cup" as in verse 36. It was not primarily the prospect of physical suffering that was crushing him; it was his suffering as a sin-bearer—his pure soul coming into contact with the awful sin and guilt of the world. God caused the iniquities of the world to strike upon Jesus (II Cor. 5:21; Isa. 53:6).

2. Jesus Christ praying (vv. 35-42).

a. The first prayer (vv. 35-38).

(1) His posture (v. 35). He fell on his face prostrate to the ground.

(2) His petition (v. 36). By the cup is meant his death on the cross. While it was grievous to endure the shame of the cross, he pressed on knowing that for this cause he had come into the world. (John 12:27, 28; cf. Heb. 2:14).

(3) His resignation (v. 36). He knew that his death on the cross was the will of God the Father, for he was the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

(4) The disciples rebuked (v. 37). He singled out Peter, since he had been the most conspicuous in proclaiming his loyalty (John 13:38).

(5) Exhortation to the disciples (v. 38). He said, "Watch and pray, lest ye enter into temptation."

b. The second prayer (vv. 39, 40). He withdrew the second time and uttered the same words in prayer.

c. The third prayer (vv. 41, 42). He uttered the same words in his third prayer (Matt. 36:44). He now told the disciples to sleep on and take their rest as the four had come for his betrayal.

V. The Betrayal and Arrest of Jesus (vv. 43-65).

1. The sign to the mob (vv. 43-47). With the basest of hypocrisy Judas designated Jesus to the mob by a kiss, the token of love.

2. Jesus forsaken by all (vv. 48-52). One of the disciples attempted to defend Jesus by resorting to the sword (Matt. 26:51). At Jesus' rebuke for this act the disciples all fled.

VI. Peter Denies the Lord (vv 66-72).

His failure was due to:

1. Boasting self-confidence (vv 29-31).
2. Lack of watchfulness (v. 37)
3. Neglect of prayer (v. 38).
4. Service in the energy of the flesh (v. 47).
5. Following Jesus afar off (v 64).
6. Seeking company among the Lord's enemies (v. 67).

In a war poll conducted recently by the University of Washington Daily, 75 per cent of the signers stated they would not bear arms in all wars but must be allowed to decide when the emergency presented itself. Only 23 per cent would cross the seas to defend the rights of American citizens abroad.

The oldest pipe organ in Louisiana was repaired recently for use in the services of Easter Sunday. For nearly a century and a half the beautiful old organ in the Cathedral of New Orleans-dedicated Christmas, 1794-has provided music for weddings, funerals, centennials and jubilees. Several of the original pipes still remain.

Many of the religious periodicals of the Methodist church are advocating a drastic change in the usual annual conference programs where much of the time of the bishop and district superintendents is taken up with the making of appointments. There is a movement on to make few changes of pastors, effect pastoral changes during the year and reduce the time of the annual session to two or three days.

Announcement of the appointment of Professor Shirley Jackson Case as dean of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago has just been made. Professor Case, an eminent scholar of early Christian history and a member of the faculty since 1908 will Dean Shailer Mathews who retires at the age of 70 June 1. Dr. Case has been editor of the Journal of Religion since 1921. He last year acted as chairman of the Church History Commission to the Orient, the object of which was to stimulate the collection of original source materials for the history of indigenous religions.

One of the outstanding features of the Chicago World's Fair will be a Hall of Religion. The growth of the Protestant church during the past century will be portrayed through exhibits brought from all corners of the earth. A program of conferences will be directed to clarifying the objectives and methods for the solution of present social problems.

What can the churches do to aid in the unemployed's use of their leisure time?

Dr. Worth M. Tippy answers this question in a recent article in the Federated Council Bulletin. He says "When twelve million people have been out of work for months, a large percentage of them for three years ,their days drag terribly. The church can provide frequent fellowship luncheons or dinners open to everybody in the congregation at lowest prices. The church can provide classes in handcrafts. It can also offer courses for adults, not only in religion but also on art and commercial problems. Finally there can be old-time new-time revival meetings, fusing personal religion with the great social undertakings vitally related to human welfare and proclaim the glad tidings that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand in the form of a more Christian social order."

DUCK-PIN CONTESTS OPEN MONDAY AT 9

Bluffton, Ind., Team to Take Runways; Many Features Planned

LOCALS HAVE CHANCE

Red Trautman to Present Meet Trophies

Circleville's initial big bowling tournament, the Midwest duck-pin matches, will open Monday at 9 a. m. with one the toughest teams entered in the meet to take the alleys. That outfit is the Bluffton, Ind., aggregation.

From 9 o'clock until the tournament ends action will be the by-word of the alleys with sixteen towns and cities entered for the festivities. It is expected between 150 and 200 bowlers will take part during the two days.

A number of teams from this city are entered and from scores they have been posting they have a good chance to gain high positions. The Herdman-Leasure team will be especially watched by local enthusiasts because of the fine scores it has been bowling. The Maloney Specials, Sensenbrenner Signs, Franklin Inns, and several other aggregations promise to be tough. Doubles and singles will be bowled by all entrants.

TRAUTMAN TO APPEAR

A feature of the tournament will be the presence of George "Red" Trautman, president of the Columbus Baseball club, who will present trophies to winners at the conclusion of Tuesday's nights festivities.

Trautman's work in obtaining the American Bowling Congress tourney for Columbus won him wide recognition. He has promised William Packard, manager of the local alleys, to be here.

Another feature of the tourney will be a broadcast of results over station WCAH between 7 and 7:15 p. m. Monday and Tuesday with the final results to be announced Wednesday.

TOURNEY FACTS

Trophies are being provided by the local chamber of Commerce.

Following are a few facts concerning the tournament; team traveling greatest distance, Boonville, Ind., 350 miles; five man team traveling greatest distance, Rochester, Ind., 340 miles; highest average man in the meet, W. Uptegraph, Bluffton, Ind., the Boonville doubles team is hitchhiking to the city; highest scores made by entries in the tourney, T. Oyer, Mt. Sterling and Willis Liston, this city, 210; officials of tourney to include foul judges, official score-keepers and an official pin-spot man.

An admission charge of 30 cents is being made at the door with a ticket being given which entitles the holder to three games anytime during the week.

OVER 50,000 WILL SEE HEAVY BATTLE

NEW YORK, June 3.—The minimum attendance at the Baer-Schmeling fight here next Thursday will be 50,000, ticket speculators estimated today.

They base their estimate on the fact that today, five days before the fight, the advance ticket sale totals $83,000, even though "tops" are only $11.50. Six days before the Sharkey-Schmeling fight last year, at which the top price was $23, the advance sale was $67,000. That show grossed $440,000.

HAMBRICK THIRD IN EARLY ROUND

Zanesville Pro Follows Von Elm and Jim Foulis in St. Paul Meet

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 3.—Two new pretenders to golfing glory and several local favorites defied the old guard today as the St. Paul $5,000 open swung into its second 18-hole round. But the popular opinion was that, when the firing ends Sunday evening after the final 36-hole round it would still be a member of the old guard that would still be champion.

George Von Elm took charge of the situation in the early medal play yesterday as he shaved two strokes off the par 72 of Keller course. But he was forced to share the lead as Jim Foulis of Hinsdale, Ill., bounding in with a pair of 35's himself, swung abreast as the field of 102 neared the close.

Von Elm refused to be worried by a stiff wind, and his putting helped materially to put him in the lead.

Trailing by two strokes was Archie Hambrick, diminutive Zanesville, O., pro who won the driving contest on the opening day.

Bracketed with 73 strokes were two Ryder cup team members, Walter Hagen and Paul Runyon, and two local players, Les Bolstad and Leonard Mattson.

Among the old guard shooting 74 in the medal play were Harry Cooper and Olin Dutra, winner of the P. G. A. championship last year. With them stood Johnny Revolta, Wisconsin open champion, Lee Herron, amateur holder of the Minnesota open title, and Ernie Penfold, Minneapolis pro.

SIMMONS STILL IS LEADING RUTH

Audience Praises Work of Four Instrumental Units of School

CHICAGO, June 3.—Al Simmons, slugging outfielder of the White Sox, was still leading Babe Ruth today in the popular vote to select an American league team of all-stars to face the best in the National loop here July 6.

Simmons has 40,278 votes to 38,151 for the Babe. Averill of Cleveland was less than 2,000 ballots behind Ruth.

Lou Gehrig was out in front of Jimmy Foxx by 20,000 in the balloting for first base while Lefty Grove of Philadelphia apparently had the hurling honors cinched.

How Will World Respond to Roosevelt Plea?

President Roosevelt's courageous espousal of the disarmament proposals of Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and his plea to the nations of the earth for a non-aggression pact came at a time when a straightforward talk was vitally needed. In Germany, Chancellor Adolf Hitler, backed by millions of Nazi Storm Troopers and Steel Helmets, was believed ready to push the peace of Europe off its pedestal; in China, the victorious legions of Emperor Hirohito of Japan were pursuing their "unofficial" war, and in Russia, the powerful Red Army was ready for anything that might come. These three mighty nations, as well as fifty-one others, received copies of President Roosevelt's proposals, the copy to Soviet Russia being directly addressed to Michail Kalinin, President of the Central Executive Council. The question now to be answered is "How will the nations respond?"

Birds Cop First From Miller '9'

The Columbus Red Birds outlasted the Minneapolis Millers, Friday, to win the first game of an important series. The score was 9-6.

The early stages of the fray were slow with free hitting and generally poor pitching holding. Hi Vandenberg started for the Millers and Clarence Heise for the Birds but neither finished.

A first inning home run by Lee Norris with two aboard the paths gave the Millers a nice lead and two more in the third helped a lot. The Birds hopped on Vandenberg with Art Shires' home run climaxing an attack that put the club within a run of the invaders. Two more markers gave the Birds a one run edge but when Minneapolis again threatened Heise was taken out and Bud Teachout went in.

The Millers tied the score at six-all where it remained until the eighth when hits by Anderson and Slade gave the Birdies a three run Margin.

Teachout was breezing along but in the ninth when Norris doubled and Manager Bancroft put a right handed hitter into bat for Ruble, Manager Blades yanked Teachout and inserted Paul Dean. All Dean did was fan the three ninth inning batters.

The teams meet again this afternoon and in a double-header Sunday.

Other Association games resulted in St. Paul and Toledo splitting a double bill and Louisville defeating Kansas City, 7 to 1.

tempt a non-stop leg of the flight to Edmonton, Canada, the longest stretch of his proposed route. From Edmonton, his course will take him to Chicago and thence back to Bennett field.

Tentative stops at Nome and Fairbanks, Alaska, were included but with good luck he hoped to skip both.

A crowd of several hundred cheered the pilot as he lifted his ship from the runway into the sky. Many of the spectators had remained at the field all night since the arrival of Lieut. Comm. Frank Hawks at the end of his record-breaking transcontinental flight in a plane equipped with a robot pilot.

Mattern's plane, powered with a 600 h. p. Wasp motor, has a top speed of 200 miles per hour and a cruising speed of 150 miles per hour. It was not equipped with radio. To add to its stability, the rudder was enlarged and the front landing gear shortened.

The daring pilot was in excellent spirits as he superintended last minute preparations for the flight. He conferred last night with Dr. James Kimball of the weather bureau about flying conditions, then went to bed.

TAKES ORANGES

He was called shortly after 3 a. m. today and arrived at the field shortly after 4:30 a. m. while the plane was fueled, he talked with Maj. Nelson Kelly, of Mitchel field and George Tilyou, his technical adviser. The fueling completed, Mattern stowed his half dozen oranges in the cockpit, shook hands with Maj. Kelly and Tilyou, climbed into the plane and taxied to the runway.

His take off was smooth and easy. Mattern swung the plane slightly and passed over Rockaway inlet, continuing out over the ocean in a wide left hand circle. He came back over the field at an altitude of about 250 feet, then turned east, gaining altitude.

Within four minutes the ship disappeared out over the sea.

years remarked that last evening's concert was the finest that has been given for sometime. Four difficult but well delivered selections were included in the program. Mozart's allegro movement from Symphony No. 12 and a Country Dance in C by Beethoven were particularly delightful numbers. A great amount of difficult brass and string work was noticed in the former while the pretty melody of the latter attracted the audience. An overture, Venetian Carnival, and Dance Persian by Zamecnick were the other numbers offered by the senior group.

60 IN JUNIOR

The junior band with its 60 members next appeared and surpraised the audience with its capable and efficient rendition of numbers which the senior band was playing two years ago. Each of the numbers was played in distinct time and was almost flawless in every other way. Two marches, Foursquare and Jolly Tars, a waltz, Martha, and two other selections, Sweet and Low and Battle Hymn of the Republic, made up the program.

The high school band in its three years of existence has advanced beyond the expectations of its followers and possibly the director. This unit, although diminished in numbers each year by graduation of its members, has nevertheless continued to grow and progress as a result of Mr. Zaenglein's ceaseless efforts. Criticism could not be justly offered to the program presented by the high school band last evening as it was as near perfect as desired by any audience. The program included two fast and snappy marches, Washington Post and The Thunderer; an overture, Festival; The Rosary, by a cornet quartette composed of Howard Ater, Gaylord Greenlee, Harry Hosler and Lloyd Truex, which was very capably given and was closed with The Star Spangled Banner.

Mr. Zaenglein was particularly happy over the way in which the program was received and he hopes to make these concerts annual affairs.

GIRL STILL GONE

CINCINNATI, June 3—A heavy cloud of mystery today continued to enshroud the kidnaping of tiny Pansy Sneed, five weeks old baby girl, as police, detectives and social welfare workers found themselves hampered by the lack of an apparent motive.

Pansy was carried away from her home last Wednesday morning by a woman, dressed in a white uniform who said she was a nurse. Since then, no trace has been found of either the baby girl or the "nurse."

Prize fighters aren't so dumb at that. Think how much better fixed the rest of us would be if we had trusted everything to a good manager.

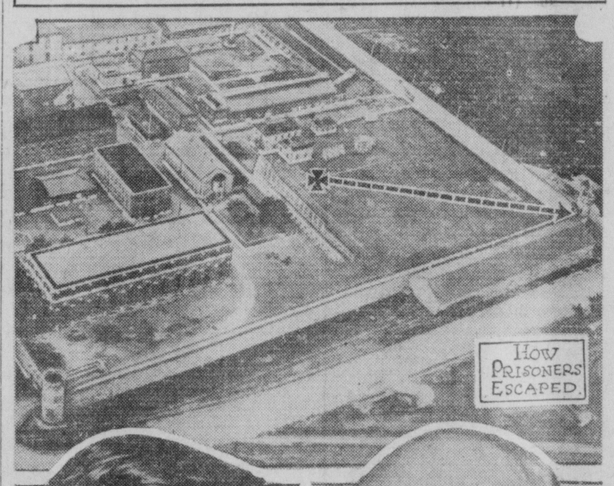
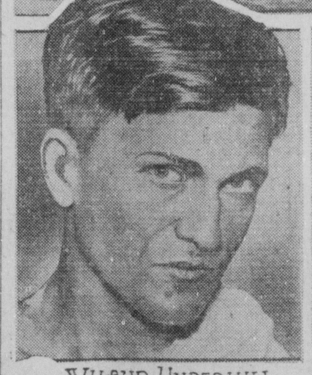
Kansas Jailbreak the Result of Loopholes in State Laws





WILBUR UNDERHILL

WARDEN KIRK PRATHER

The desperate bid for freedom made by eleven convicts of the Kansas State Penitentiary at Lansing focuses attention on the divergence of State laws that made it possible. Wilbur Underhill, the leader of the break, had committed two murders in Oklahoma, whence he broke jail while serving a life sentence, when he killed Merle Colver, a Wichita, Kan., policeman. Rather than go back to Oklahoma, where there is capital punishment, to face trial for murder, Underhill chose to plead guilty to murder in Kansas, where there is no capital punishment, thus drawing a life sentence. In making their break, Underhill and his companions were well aware that they had all to gain and nothing to lose, for all were lifers. So also, had they slain Warden Kirk Prather and the two guards they had taken as hostages, the law could do no more to them—they already were serving the maximum sentence in Kansas.

Speakeasies Disappearing

MAJOR A. V. DALRYMPLE, national prohibition director, is authority for the statement that 50,000 speakeasies in the United States have been put out of business by the legalizing of 3.2 beer.

He made the statement while in San Francisco on an inspection trip along the Pacific coast. He based his estimate on reports received by his office from various parts of the country. The speakeasy casualties in New York and Chicago totaled 10,000 or more each, he said.

Further improvement of the situation will occur, he said, "When the breweries catch up and begin to distribute beer that has been aged up to 90 days, as it should be." He admitted that most of the beer being sold today is "fresh beer" because the consumers will not wait for it to be aged.

When this condition is corrected by the breweries "it will wreck the speakeasy business of the nation," he declared.

His conclusions as to present conditions in this field are supported by common observation. The speakeasies are having a hard time, with many being forced out of business. The new beer, if it be intoxicating as many drys contend, is not causing an increase inobservable drunkenness. Reliable figures indicate that arrests for drunknesses are on the decrease. There has been no apparent sudden rise in automobile accidents, as drys predicted would be the case immediately following the legalization of beer.

The entire liquor situation seems to have undergone a distinct improvement.

One War Ended

THE League of Nations has brought two warring nations to a recognition of their league obligations by ceasing hostilities and submitting to the league for settlement the cause of the clash.

In impressive ceremonies at Geneva, Columbia and Peru formally agreed to end their fighting on the Amazon for the possession of Leticia. The terms of the report adopted by the league council last year were accepted. The disputed territory will be turned over to a league commission to administer pending settlement of the dispute through the commission. The latter is authorized to use international forces in maintaining order during the interime. The league having no military forces at its disposal, it was indicated that Columbian troops would be "internationalized" temporarily for service in the disputed area.

The settlement has particular interest for the United States by reason of the fact that it is the first time the league has intervened successfully in a dispute in that section of the world covered by the Monroe doctrine. A citizen of the United States will be on the commission to settle the quarrel.

The success of the league in ending the Amazon war doesn't take on the importance, of course, that would attack to it if the warring nations had been world powers. It, nevertheless, is one star in the crown of the league and comes at a time when the latter's prestige and influence had suffered serious decline. The possibility of its proving an influential example to other nations to adopt peaceful means of settling their disputes gives the league achievement additional importance.

THE CHALLENGE OF LOVE

by WARWICK DEEPING

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN

"Pity! There's a great deal of pity wasted on the poor. Bless my soul, they don't feel things as you think they feel them. If you let yourself be persuaded by all this sentimental nonsense, it may cost you thousands of pounds."

Thus old Crump warming his coat-tails before a roaring fire at "Pardons," radiating a fatherly slyness, and talking to cheat John Wolfe of the compassion he had stirred in the heart of Ursula Brandon. Young Aubrey, his leg in plaster-of-Paris, was able to hobble about with two sticks. He had developed a curious liking for Wolfe. Crump, the cynic, suspected that the mother had followed the example of the son.

"I can't confess to much love for the poor."

"You are quite right, madam; they are not lovable. Leave them alone. Whatever you do, they'll grumble."

"But one has responsibilities."

"And we fulfil them. Suppose you tell me that it is Mr. Wolfe's opinion that Navestock should be turned upside down, I answer you, 'My dear madam, it is Mr. Wolfe's business to have such opinions. Every man's profession, including the profession of religion, is his business. Never take a so-called expert too seriously'."

She looked past the lawyer into the heart of the fire.

"Do you suggest that the man is not sincere?"

"I suggest nothing of the kind. On the contrary, he is a thing that I abominate—a fanatic. This sort of man rides his hobby to death. And he is ready to fight for it—as young Turrell discovered."

"Was there anything in that piece of gossip?"

"Hector Turrell went out to thrash and got thrashed. That much is certain. I for one did not grieve."

It was Crump who did more than any other man to consolidate the opposition in Navestock against Wolfe's reforms. He had a reassuring and cynical shrewdness that smiled all extravagant opinions out of court. He even purged Rev. Flemming, temporarily, of the doubts that had afflicted him.

"An enthusiast always overstates his case, sir. Let things lie quiet for a year, let the mud settle. Then we may see the bottom of the pond. I abominate flurry. It is preposterous to think of our being hustled into some wild scheme by old Crabbe and a pair of fanatics like Wolfe and Boxall. No. Let us take any useful hints, but let us make our reforms at our own time and in our own way. It doesn't do to let passion into these things."

"But supposing an epidemic should arise?"

"That is one of their platform words, Mr. Flemming. It's a ghost made of a sheet and a broomstick. I know that kind of ghost."

Consciously, or unconsciously, Navestock adopted Crump's attitude of stolid, sensible cynicism. The Tory paper, extraordinarily wise for once in its career, ignored the whole business. Boxall, of "The Clarion," kept up an absurd trumpeting, but the walls of Jericho did not totter. Hardly a head appeared above the battlements to see what was happening in the plain below. The watcher on the walls saw nothing but palm trees, and a ridiculously lean and leaping dervish blowing at a trumpet and waving a red flag.

Then winter came, and with it phenomenal December floods that washed all theoretical squabblings into temporary oblivion. The Wraith overflowed its banks and swamped the river meadows and the lowlying parts of the town.

The flood had Biblical leanings, in that it lasted seven days. It left Navestock sodden and depressed. The raw, stagnant air was smitten through and through with frost. The floors and foundations of many of the cottages were so much pulp. Wolfe, with Turpin splashing through the black flood-water, had prophesied a bad winter for Navestock in the way of sickness. He was right.

By the middle of December Wolfe found himself up to the throat in work. It was forced upon him, despite his unpopularity, by the fact that he had become necessary to the town. Threadgold's new assistant was an amiable and bleating fool. Wolfe ran up against him now and then, a thin youth with puzzled spectacles, a huge forehead, and a weak, conciliatory smile. The man was a muff, and the people would have none of him. He could not even gossip to the old women. The children called him "Old Ba-lamb" to his face. Threadgold was run off his little pattering legs.

Squabbles about theories gave way before the importunities of facts. "The Clarion" turned aside to attack the riparian owners who were responsible for the waters of the Wraith. "Pardons" was empty, its mistress flown southwards where grey olive trees and a blue sea made the white walls of the South gleam more whitely. Robert Flemming was spending hours beside sick-beds. A new wing was being built at Turrell's brewery, and the Turrells were taken up with bricks and mortar. Josiah Crabbe had gone to bed with his first attack of bronchitis. Navestock was too busy for the moment to spend itself in quarrels. The combatants went into winter quarters, and waited for warmer and more litigious weather in the spring.

It turned out that on Christmas morning Wolfe had to walk to Josiah Crabbe's through three inches of snow. The Lombardy poplars by Josiah Crabbe's were huge, white-bearded Druids. The clouds had broken, and a blue sky covered the world.

Quite early, before the church bells had begun ringing and muffled folk went plodding through the snow, Wolfe had to collar a boy and offer him a shilling to take a letter up to Moor Farm. "I can't get through with my work by noon," he wrote. "More messages and too much snow. You must dine alone. I will try to be with you by tea time."

The boy had his shilling, and a couple of mince-pies at the farm.

Jess was grieved.

"Why couldn't they let him have just this one day?"

Her mother acted while Jess deplored.

"Sally, keep the beef out of the oven. Dr. Wolfe can't get here by noon. We'll dine at six instead."

The sparkle was soon back in Jess's eyes.

"Shall I do it, Mother?"

"If you like, child. You had better let me."

"No, I want to try for myself. I wonder whether he will be surprised."

It was a complex business—this first piling up of rebellious hair, with stray tendrils escaping, and the whole mass threatening to tumble down like a cataract. Jess had her own conception as to how her hair should be done. She was prejudiced against nets, remembering how Miss Edith Wilks's hair looked like a sandy-coloured ferret stuffed into a rabbit-net. Ribbons, pins, and combs were scattered over Jess's dressing-table. She had borrowed her mother's hand-glass, and between it and her own little Georgian mirror, swinging in its mahogany frame, decision faltered hypercritically.

A long black skirt lay on the bed. Jess put it on, and, holding her head a little on one side, looked at herself in a long pier-glass. What a transfiguration! She went nearer and gazed at herself almost ruefully as though she were taking leave of an old friend. A solemn mood seized her. She drew a chair before the fire, sat down, and stared at the flames. Something was happening! She had changed suddenly. Life, too, had changed. For a moment she felt a passionate desire to throw herself back into the arms of the past.

"Jess, Jess, are you coming, child?"

She was on the last step but one before she saw John Wolfe. He had been hanging his ulster on one of the pegs under the stairs. Jess paused with one hand on the rail, for Wolfe was standing and looking up at her with an expression that she did not understand.

Discover a New Serum For Typhus

It Protects Against a Certain Form of This Deadly Fever

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

IN MY mail today I received two unusual letters. One letter requested information about typhus fever. The other was a report of recent work on this disease conducted by the United States public health service and the Mexican government. Announcement was made of the discovery of a serum which protects against a certain form of typhus fever.

Dr. Copeland

This is of special interest to the inhabitants of Mexico and the citizens of the southern states. In this territory typhus fever is still prevalent.

This is one of the most deadly diseases known to mankind. It is always associated with filth and unhygienic surroundings. It was especially prevalent when little was known about sanitation and wretched living conditions were common.

Often Confused With Typhoid

Typhus fever is often confused with typhoid fever. But the diseases are quite different and run different courses. Typhus fever is carried by a germ found in rats. It is carried from one rat to another by rat lice and fleas. It is transmitted to humans by fleas.

Typhoid fever is caused by a germ called the "bacillus typhyosus". This is found in contaminated food, milk and water supplies. Like typhus fever, the disease at one time was prevalent throughout the world. Fortunately, we have a vaccine called the typhoid vaccine which prevents the disease. Due to proper supervision of food, water and milk and the use of typhoid vaccine, the disease is now rarely encountered.

For many years experimental research has endeavored to discover a vaccine for typhus fever similar to the vaccine successfully used against typhoid fever. It is hoped that the announcement of the new typhus fever vaccine will aid in the eradication of this disease.

Cleanliness Essential

Of course typhus fever can be prevented by improvement in social conditions and the destruction of dark, crowded tenements and unsanitary homes. Like many other diseases, the prevention of typhus fever is largely a matter of personal cleanliness. It is for this reason that the disease has greatly decreased as civilization and education have spread over the face of the earth.

Let us hope for the continued success of those scientists who daily labor in their efforts to make this world a cleaner and safer place in which to live. Their success will lead to the ultimate wiping out of typhus fever and other dreaded diseases.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

THERE'S one more report come in from the Fourth of July. A guy was seriously injured in Aberdeen for telling this joke. He said his little Scotch cousin in America went to his dad and asked for some noise-makers for the Fourth. The old man said never mind, he would take care of him for snappy noise when the big day come around. So the kid waited, and on the morning of the Fourth the dad brought out a new bottle of glue.

"I paid a nickle for this," he says, "and you can put it on your thumb, a wee bit at a time, and snap your fingers loud all day."

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

A Double Profit

By IRVIN S. COBB

THERE was a Broadway sport who loved to boast. One day he met an impecunious friend and, for the moment forgetting that the latter was a chronic borrower, was moved to do a little bragging.

"I guess I'm a pretty smart fellow," said the fictionist. "Only yesterday I sold a dog for $10,000."

"You don't mean to say that you got ten thousand dollars for a dog?" asked the other.

"Yep. A rich man took a fancy to the pup and bought him on the spot."

His friend eyed him speculatively.

"Well, I'm glad to hear it," he said, "because I know now you'll do me a favor. My wife's got to go to the hospital tomorrow for an operation. I'm dead broke and the doctor won't touch her until I put up the dough. Now, you're rich all of a sudden—you've got all that money. Let me have a couple of hundred, will you?"

For just the fractional part of a minute the romancer was stumped. Then he rallied.

"I'd do it in a minute if I could," he explained; "but I can't."

"But you just told me you sold your dog for ten thousand dollars."

"Yes, but you see that rich man didn't pay me in cash. He gave me two cats at five thousand apiece."

TO LOSE FAT

Miss M. Katner of Brooklyn, N. Y. writes: "Have used Kruschen for the past 4 months and have not only lost 35 pounds but feel so much better in every way. Even for people who don't care to reduce, Kruschen is wonderful to keep the system healthy. I being a nurse should know for I've tried so many things but only Kruschen answered all purposes." (May 12, 1932).

TO lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—get Kruschen Salts at any drugstore in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

CIRCLEVILLE SCHOOLS' PAPER—DEPARTMENT OF THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

NO. 63, VOL. 6, ISSUE 263. CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO. SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1933.

The Retrospect Of The 1932-33 School Year

HI-Y

In the closing of the school year, it is proper that we should offer a retrospect of the important doings of the Hi-Y club for this year 1932-33.

This retrospect follows: October 21, 1932, C. F. Hax selected assistant advisor to the club. Ned Griner appointed chairman of program committee for the year; December 1, 1932, Bill Ashbrook, Harold Baughman, Joe Bell, Horace Gilmore, Bill Gunning, Jim Lyle, Otis Mader, Bob May, Mark Maxey, Edgar McClure, Ned Plum, Jim Reichelderfer, John Robinson, Russel Skaggs, George Speakman and Jacob Towers initiated into the Club; December 8, 1932, John Mason, Howard Ater, Lincoln Mader, Oakley Warner and E. I. Gephart report on Hi-Y convention, Columbus; January 12, 1233, Tom Renick and Doctor H. D. Jackson selected as uptown advisors to the club; February 9, 1933, Girl Reserve and Hi-Y have joint bean feed. T. A. Renick talks; March 2, 1933, Paul Davis, Jack Foresman, Tom Kirwin, Robert Shadley and William Weldon iniated at second initiation of the year; March 31 1933, Circleville and Pickaway Hi-Y clubs go to Columbus for swim at Y. M. C. A.; April 18, 1933, Annual Sweetheart banquet held at Hanley's Tea Room. Ralph Garner, Columbus, was the main speaker; May 4, 1933, Jim Reichelderfer, Harold Baughman, Bill Gunning, Russel Skaggs, elected president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, respectively to succeed Howard Ater, John Moore, John Mason and Paul Rooney; May 11, 1933, new officers installed into the club.

FOOTBALL

The football team was fairly successful this year, even if it did lose quite a few games. The fight that was always there, just couldn't be exerted at the proper time.

Graduation caused many holes in the team and these all had to be filled with comparatively green material.

Circleville lost five games, tied one, and finished on the long end of score twice. They lost to Lancaster St. Mary, Bexley, Delaware, Grandview, and Hillsboro. They tied with Lancaster High school and won from Westerville and Marysville. They can be given credit for the effort put forth by them.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra has had a very successful year. It has played many engagements in and out of the school. Those in the school are: mass meeting of Pickaway-co to discuss the Mort Plan of school finances, the plays, 'The Show-Off,' "Heart Trouble," "The King Rides By," and the music festival of the Circleville High School.

Those out of the school are: Two concerts at Camp Sherman, at the K. of P. Hall, The Father-Son banquet at the K. of P. Hall, and the broadcast over W A I U from the Southern Hotel.

RECOGNITION ASSEMBLY

A final recognition assembly was held Thursday afternoon in the auditorium.

The stage was first taken by Coach Herberholz, who called all football and basketball and lettermen to the stage. Following this, Miss Rains called all members of the girls' basketball squad to the stage. Next Mr. Herberholz award track letters to J. Jenkins, George Speakman, Bob Shadley, Fred Smith, Russell Skaggs, Bill Hegele, and Dean White. Bob Wilson and Fred Grant were then awarded cheer leaders' letters by E. I. Gephart.

C. F. Hax took the stage next and called all Thespian members of this year's plays and all members of the Quill and Scroll.

Next C. F. Zaenglein called all band letter men to the stage and then awarded official band certificates to Howard Ater, C. Glitt, William Crist, Terry Hitchcock, Bob Wilson, Ned Griner, C. Rader, L. Truex, E. McClure, and Glenn Weiler.

The last part of the program E. I. Gephart awarded certificates for safety work to Joe Bell, Horace Gilmore, Mark Maxey, David Steinhauser, Ned Harden, Richard Hernley, Allen Smith, and Bill Weldon.

EPSILON MU SIGMA

The E. M. S. meetnigs were held every three weeks at the homes of the members. The club divided into three groups, poetry, novel, and short story. The entertainment for each meeting was furnished by a member of each group.

The club gave a two act play in chapel called "The Village Skewl of Long a Go! They also put out a scandel sheet, which was distributed by the members of the club.

The club made an annual trip to Columbus on April 26. During the day they visited the State Office building, the Feeble Minded Institution and the Ohio State Museum.

Otis Mader, Virginia Caskey, and Dorothy Bartley were elected as officers for next year.

TRACK

Circleville fared better in the league meet this year than they have in previous times. Grandview came in first using the same team that represented them last year. They won the district meet and finished fourth in the state meet.

Circleville finished second to Grandview and Westerville came next. The Tigers were victorious in a meet with Westerville.

THE STAFF

During the first week of school a temporary staff was appointed by advisor Charles Hax. This staff has published the paper throughout the year. At Christmas 2 issues were published during vacation. This is the sixth year that the Red and Black has been published as a department of the Circleville Herald.

The Quill and Scroll began activities with five members. This enrollment was increased by the eligibility of Harry R. Hosler, Dorothy Bartley, Charlotte Moore, and Mary Helwagen.

The staff included Charlotte Caskey, Harry R. Hosler, Dorothy Bartley, George Ammer, Charlotte Moore, Mary Helwagen, Elizabeth Dowden, Marie Briner, Harold Ankrum, and Lyman England.

Jessie Dresbach and Wahnita Barnhart ranked first, their average being 94 per cent.

JUNIOR GIRL RESERVES

The first meeting of the Junior Girl Reserves was called to order September 21. This meeting was to decide what new girls were to become members of the club. It was decided that 11 Freshmen girls would be initiated.

The club decided upon dividing into two hobby groups, the Music and Dramatics Group and the Athletic and Nature Group. Virginia Cady was elected president of the Athletic and Nature Group, and Doris Moffitt was elected Secretary. The president and secretary of the Music and Dramatics Group are Elizabeth Dowden, and Jane Drum. The Athletic and Nature Group took hikes and partook in various other sports during the year. The Music and Dramatics Group made a number of Girl Reserve Song books which contain the songs sung by the girls of both the Junior and Senior Girl Reserves.

The delightful social events given by the girls were: the Halloween party given October 27, to which all the girls came masked; the Christmas party given for poor school children, which was a huge success because of the appearance of Santa Claus and the gifts the children received; the Kid party to which everyone came dressed as a kid. The last meeting of the Athletic and Nature Group was a Treasure Hunt, at which all members and their friends were present. The Music and Dramatics Group closed their meetings with a party at the home of Bernice Liston.

During the year the club visited the St. Josephs, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian and the United Bretheran churches. At the last meeting the officers for the coming year and the delegate to be sent to the Girl Reserve Camp were elected.

BAND

Many band boys were swelling out their chests showing a large "C." There were requirements of which some did not complete. The most important of these is 2 years of band work; and be present at the majority of rehearsals and engagements. Those receiving band letters are as follows: C. Andrews, D. Ankrom, B. Ashbrook, Howard Ater, H. Baughman, V. Caskey, B. Crist, K. Davis, H. Doan, J. Foresman, D. Greenlee, G. Kreenlee, N. Griner, N. Harden, B. Helwagen, R. Hernley, T. Hitchcock, N. Hitchcock, Harry Hosler, C. Jackson, E. McClure, M. May, W. Pickel, N. Plum, C. Rader, G. Roth, J. Ruff, R. Teal, L. Truex, Rod Watts, B. Watts, G. Weiler, V. Weiler, R. Wilson, C. Glitt, P. Davis and B. Davis.

The Red and Black Staff wishes to thank the Circleville Herald for its cooperation in the publishing of the Red and Black this year.

SENIOR GIRL RESERVES

At the beginning of the year the following cabinet members were elected for the Senior Girl Reserves. Avanell Haecker, president; Sara Steinhauser, vice-president; Eleanor Davis, secretary-treasurer; Charlotte Caskey, service representative; Ellen Bennett, pep representative; Sara May, program representative; and the two advisors Miss Elma Rains and Miss Velma Watson.

Seven girls were initiated October 20, making a total of thirty eight members in the club.

The girls joined with the Hi-Y, in singing carols and attending Midnight services Xmas eve. The members also gave toys to the needy children.

On February 9 the Senior Reserves held a joint meeting with the Hi-Y.

A Mother-Daughter banquet was held April 27 at the high school for all members and their mothers.

Approximately $25 was made by the Girl Reserves on bake sales and candy sales.

The president for next year is Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick; vice-president, Margaret Bowers; and secretary-treasurer, Mary May.

Mary May was chosen as representative to the camp at Northwestern university.

NATIONAL THESPIANS

The Thespians under the direction of Charles Hax presented two plays during the year, "The Show-Off" and "Monkey Shines Revue."

The four presentations in dramastics given this year at the high school were very well received by the audience and each was a success.

A minstrel, "Monkey Shines Review," presented on December 14 and 15. It included 9 boys.

The "Show Off," a three-act comedy, was presented by the Thespians. This play had an entire staff of 20 members.

As a junior class play, "Heart Trouble" was presented April 8 and 9. The cast included 10 juniors.

"The King Rides By" was presented by the senior class on May 18 and 19 and included 25 seniors.

The Thespians pin was presented to Charlotte Caskey, Gene Rader and Bill Gunning in recognition of their work in these plays which were under the capable direction of Mr. Charles F. Hax.

JUNIOR SENIOR BANQUET

The final social event of the year was held May 30 at the high school building in the gymnasium which was decorated in blue and silver, the senior class colors. Approximately 40 members of the two classes, teachers and board members and their wives enjoyed the banquet. The school board and their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles May, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colville, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Goeller, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnhart and J. R. Noecker.

The entertainment was introduced by William Gunning, Junior Class President and was as follows: Vocal solo by Miss Johnda Tootle; toast, C. R. Barnhart; trumpet solo, Ned Griner; toast, Supt. J. O. Eagleson; tap dance, Paul Davis and a toast by C. F. Hax. The response was given by John Mason, senior class president. The Red and Black song concluded the evening.

The committees are as follows: Banquet committee; Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick, Margie Wolfe, Charlotte Moore, Harold Baughman and Billy Steele. Entertainment committee; Margaret Bower, Mary May, James Smith, Lyman England, Mary Helwagen and Dorothy Bartley. The decorating was done by Dale Ankrom, William Weldon, Polly Briggs, Robert Friece, Helen Hetter and Martha Rader.

ANNUAL SALES

At the end of the annual sales this year there was some-what of advantage in the sales. Last year there was about 227 anuals sold. This year 15 more were sold than last year making a total of 242 anuals totaling $242.00.

The high salesman of the annuals just got over the line for a free annual. Charles Glitt the high seller sold ten. Each Senior must take three annuals and sell them if they can.

Harry R. Hosler, junior, is editor of this edition.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team this year was the most unfortunate one in several years. The team was a group which could have won but they just couldn't click at the proper time. Only two of last year's championship team returned which left three vacansies to be filled. Three comparatively inexperienced players were utilized in that direction. A number of the games were lost by two point margins; the winning spurt being missing.

The only league game won this year was at the expense of Bexley. A successful team is expected for next year with a complete team of letter men returning.

BAND

The band also had a successful year. Most of its engagements were out of school. The engagements are as follows. concert at Grand Theater, band festival at Bexley and Circleville, the home football games, provided two chapel programs, the annual meeting at Logan Elm, and two concerts at Veterans Hospital, Camp Sherman, Chillicothe. The band also played in the school festival.

The band has two more engagements the first one is on Sunday, June 11, for the K. of P. lodge memorial services. The Monday following June 11, on June the 12 the band will play for the Red Men's convention.

All band members will be in full dress uniform.

METAL WORK

The boys in the metal works had a new experience this year. Four new trailers were made, one of which is used for any purpose of the school. The boys with their regular work of forging and making different articles all helped work on these trailers. These boys in alphabetical order: John Ammer, Lee Cook, Lawrence Dowden, Edgar McClure, Charles Rader, Lloyd Truex, Glen Weiler.

COMMENCEMENT TO BE JUNE 6

The Commencement exercises will be held June 6, in the High School Auditorium.

The principal speaker for the evening will be B. O. Skinner, the state director of education. The address of the salutatorian will be given by Gene Rader, and the validictory will be given by Rosemary Jackson. Principal E. I. Gephart will present the class to the Board of Education, and Charles H. May will present the diplomas.

The music will be furnished by the High School Orchestra, and vocal numbers by the Girls' Glee Club and the Special Glee Club.

On June the sixth, 67 pupils will graduate. The following are candidates for graduation from C. H. S. with the class of '33.

The list of graduates follows;

GLEE CLUBS GIVE PROGRAM

Circleville high schools five glee clubs, The Freshman Boy's Glee Club, The Freshman Girl's The Boy's, The Girl's Glee Club, and the Senior Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Johnda Tootle, presented an assembly program, Monday morning.

The freshman boys took the platform first singing "Those Pals Of Ours," by Greaton and Cole. They were followed by the freshman girls, who sang a series of three numbers; namely, "Lullaby of the Dwarfs," by Reinecke, The "Primrose," composed by Gelchrist and Berceuse, a "Basque Melody." Next the Boy's Glee Club sang "Widdecombe Fair," an English song arranged by Cecil Forsythe, and "Passing By," by Purcell. Following this the Senior Glee Club sang, "Under the Silver Stars," a Cuban song. The program closed with the Girl's Glee Club singing "Now Is The Month of Maying," by Marley, "May Carol," composed by Deems Taylor and "Chinese Lullaby" from "East Is West."

The Freshman Boy's Glee Clubs, The Freshman Girls and the Boys Glee Club are only a few months old, while the other two clubs are two years old.

FORGOT HIS HAT

NEW YORK—A man who told police he was John Smith, fell seven stories from a window and walked up stairs again, unhurt, to get his hat. Smith was visiting a friend in the seventh floor of an apartment hotel. Leaning out of the window, his elbow slipped. The next thing he knew he had struck an awning running from a restaurant in the hotel to the street. The awning broke his fall.

ASHVILLE

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES

In memory of those who laid down their lives—made the supreme sacrifice—that we might live. Appropriate services were held at the township cemetery, near South Bloomfield, Tuesday at 10 a. m.

The procession formed in the village and headed by the Ashville Community band under the leadership of Fred J. Hines, marched to the cemetery near by. Mayor Colahan presided and introduced Rev. Morrison, their local M. E. minister, who gave a most interesting address. Selections by the band and a declamation by a young miss made up the program.

The graves were lovingly decorated by a company of young folks.

THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

FIFTIETH YEAR. NUMBER 130 — CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1933 — THREE CENTS

Did You Know

By Pat J. Kirwin

THAT the first organized fire department in Circleville was the Circleville Protection Co., established in January, 1828, 'to protect the city's property in time of fire." Engines were not in vogue then, buckets being the sole reliance. The constitution provided that the officers of the company to be elected annually, should consist of five directors, a secretary and treasurer. The directors were called the first, second, third, etc., the first director being the commandant of the company. Each director coached a class of five persons "in the art of quickly extinguishing fires." The directors also purchased the necessary buckets and other apparatus including barrels and firemen's hats. The costs were paid by members of the company. The following early residents of the city subscribed to the constitution and made up the membership: James Bell, Matthew McCrea, John Groce, George Wildburn, Joseph Johnston, N. S. Gregg, Henry Ely, Jacob H. Lutz, William McCulloch, John Hedges, Sam Pickering, Matthew Littleton, John T. Davenport, Joseph Olds, Thomas and Levi Pedrick, William McArthur, George W. Glaze, William N. Luckey, Sam Rogers, G. W. Dean, Jacob Burget and Andrew Huston.

That the Y. M. C. A. movement started in Circleville in 1869 when the first local branch of the Young Men's Christian Association was organized on December 7 of that year. James Loughry was the first president. Headquarters were located at Wittich's Hall. Other officers were: Alfred William, 1st president; W. McCrum, 2nd president; Samuel Moore, treasurer; C. F. Krimmel, recording secretary; E. Z. Hays, corresponding secretary. A board of managers included W. B. Marfield, S. Knott, E. M. Schryver, E. B. Fletcher, S. Miller, G. W. Throne and M. Wittich.

That due to a lack of funds in the city treasury in June, 1823, to complete a ditch improvement, the citizens of the town banded together and performed the work. At the time there was a large ditch which surrounded the circle and it had filled up with water and had become stagnant. It was necessary that something be done in order to protect the health of the citizens of the town. The board of trustees of the city could find no way to obtain the money so the townspeople, rich and poor, offered their labor "for the purpose of draining off the ditch and rendering it dry and harmless." The improvement was completed in several weeks and papers of the time commented "that the laborers were proud of their labor."

That John J. Dresbach of this city in April, 1860, received by mail from the Island of Java, nearly 3,000 miles away, an alva pig, the first of such breed to reach Pickaway-co. It was neatly boxed up and received in good condition. The freight was only $8.

THAT the first iron bridge constructed across Hargus-creek on N. Court-st, was opened in December, 1869, and was proclaimed to be one of the finest structures on the Scioto-trail. The plan of the bridge, secured by a special patent, was known as the tubular arch and was constructed entirely of wrought iron. The span was about 50 feet. There were two roadways of 26 feet each and eight-foot footpaths on each side. The structure was made by Rezner, Stone and Co. of Cleveland and was put up by James S. Jenkins. This great step forward in bridge improvement was the joint work of the city council and the Columbus - Portsmouth Turnpike Co. Each paid half the expense.

Jimmy Mattern Attempts to Beat Post-Gatty World Record

FLIES LOCKHEED

Leaves Floyd Bennett Field at 5:21 A. M.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Hoping to eclipse the round-the-world flight record of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, Jimmy Mattern hopped off at 5:21 a. m. today from Floyd Bennett field, Brooklyn, on his long deferred globe-girdling dash.

Flying alone in the "Century of Progress," the Lockheed plane in which he and Bennett Griffin attempted a world-circling flight last year, Mattern hoped to cover the 15,561 mile route in about six days, making nine stops. Post and Gatty made their world circuit in 8 days and 15 hours.

Loaded with 705 gallons of gas, the plane soared away into the east after a 2,500 foot run.

OVER GREAT CIRCLE

Mattern planned to follow the Great Circle route over the Atlantic and was expected to make his first stop at Paris. From there he will hop for Berlin and continue on to Moscow, technical advisers said.

Weather conditions were said to be excellent all the way across the ocean.

"Give me a good wind and half a dozen oranges — I'm off," the aviator said to o[illegible] of the air field. He got bo[illegible] 115 after a final inspection of h[illegible] 110 climbed in and sent the [illegible] roaring down the runway of the first leg of the flight.

COURSE PLANNED

From Moscow Mattern plans to dash to Yakutski, in the heart of Siberia. From there, he will at-

COUNTY VISITING BOARD SELECTED

Judge C. C. Young announced Saturday that he had completed appointment of a county visiting board with the selection of Harry G. Stevenson.

The board consists of T. F. Jeffries and Mrs. Charles H. May, terms expiring May 1, 1934; Mrs. E. S. Neuding and Harp Van Riper, terms expiring May 1, 1935, and Mrs. H. H. Groce and Mr. Stevenson, terms ending May 1, 1936.

According to law the board must consist of three men and three women, three Democrats and three Republicans.

The board must visit all county-supported institutions once every three months, file reports with the probate judge and make recommendations to the county commissioners.

The visiting board has not been active in the last few years but now is expected to make its regular visits and reports.

K. OF P. PLANNING MEMORIAL SERVICE

W. F. Bruce, Mt. Gilead, to Deliver Address; Parade to Cemetery Planned

W. F. Bruce, of Mont Gilead, a Past Grand Chancellor and now Supreme Representative of the Supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias, will be the principal speaker when Philos lodge No.64, observes its Memorial day on Sunday, June 11. The time is 2 p. m.

Mr. Bruce besides his activities in the lodge is president of the Mt. Gilead National Bank.

An added feature of the event will be a parade from the lodge home to Forest cemetery. The high school band, under the leadership of Prof. C. F. Zaenglein, will lead the line of march and will also furnish music for the service.

BUSINESS UP

CLEVELAND, June 3—Terming the present, widespread industrial improvement as "the sharpest advance in trade operations since the depression began," the monthly business review of the fourth federal district today declared that promises for the future "are more favorable than for months."

An encouraging factor of the report, which covers Ohio, West Virginia and parts of Pennsylvania and Kentucky, was found in the statement that many hitherto stagnant fields of industry joined in the grand parade toward prosperity.

Baccalaureate Is Sunday

Graduates of High School to Attend Rites at Methodist Church

MUSIC IS PLANNED

"Have You The Password?" is Subject

Baccalaureate services for the 1933 graduating class of Circleville high school will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the First Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. C. H. Eichinger, the church's pastor, announced Saturday that other pastors will have parts in the service.

Special music has been arranged by the M. E. choir, under the direction of Mrs. J. P. Moffit, with Hunter Chambers as organist. The vested choir will be augmented by Carlisle Moffit, Columbus baritone, with the Monday Club quartet having a part in the program.

After Mr. Chambers' prelude the choir will take its place singing the processional, "God of Our Fathers" by Warren. The members of the graduating class will follow the choir into the church. Mr. Moffit's initial part of the program will follow, a solo, "It is Enough" from Mendelssohn's Elijah.

Rev. E. S. Toensmeier, of the First Presbyterian church, will offer a prayer with the choir's anthem "Saviour When Night Involves the Sky" by Shelley to be rendered. Mr. Moffit has a baritone solo in this selection.

Rev. L. C. Sherburne of St. Philip's Episcopal church will lead in scripture reading to be followed by the Monday Club quartet's selection "God is My Guide" by Schubert. Members of the quartet are Mrs. Clark Will, Miss Helen B. Marion, Mrs. Evan Reicheldorfer and Mrs. Moffit.

Rev. Eichinger's sermon "How You the Password?" will then be heard.

The senior class song will be sung by the graduates with remarks by Rev. L. D. Young of the Church of the Brethren and the benediction by Rev. C. W. Ruhlman of the Evangelical church. The graduates will follow the choir from the church.

GLOBE-CIRCLING FLIGHT BEGINS

Jimmy Mattern, prominent aviator, began a flight, Saturday morning, in which he hopes to shatter the round-the-world record of Post and Gatty.

Mattern is flying alone and plans his first leg over the Great Circle route over the North Atlantic.

Eight Arrested In Kidnap Plot

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 3—Speedy prosecution was promised by authorities today for the gang under arrest as the abductors of Miss Mary McElroy, daughter of City Manager H. F. McElroy. The girl was kidnaped from her home here last Saturday and released on payment of $30,000 ransom.

Five persons, including two women, were being hurried here by airplane from Amarillo, Tex., in the custody of two Kansas City detectives and Federal Investigator R. E. Vetterli. Three were in jail here, according to Clarence Click of Kansas City.

Walter H. McGee, arrested in Amarillo with $9,291 in large denomination bills on his person, was described by police as the leader of the gang that abducted Miss McElroy. McGee admitted the cash was "kidnap money" but denied all knowledge of the McElroy abduction.

PICTURE IDENTIFIED

Shown photographs of McGee, Miss McElroy, her father and brother identified him as the man who took a leading part in the abduction.

Eugene G. Reppert, director of police, announced the house in which the girl was held captive for 30 hours has been located in a suburban area between Kansas City and Shawnee, Kas.

McGee had worked here as a truck driver, according to police, and is an ex-convict from the Oregon state penitentiary at Salem. He is sought in Kansas for several bank robberies, authorities said.

Reppert disclosed that he learned the identities of the suspects Monday. McGee and his four companions, Wendell Johnson and his wife and L. R. Gilbert and his wife, were located through an intercepted telegram to a Leavenworth junk dealer regarding the purchase of a new automobile.

AVIATOR, WIFE READY TO HOP

Mollison, Amy Johnson Plan to Establish Three New Records

LONDON, June 3.—James A. Mollison and his wife, the former Amy Johnson, primier British aviators, announced definite plans today to leave Croydon aerodrome at 11 a. m. Monday on the first flight direct from London to New York.

The flight is planned as the first leg of an attempted 12,000 mile jaunt. The Mollisons hope to make the first flight direct from New York to London, and then intend to turn around and fly direct to Bagdad. The itineray then calls for a non-stop jump from Bagdad to London.

If the flight goes according to schedule, the Mollisons will hang up three new records. One will be the first London to New York flight, another the first double crossing of the Atlantic and the third a new long distance non-stop record from New York to Bagdad.

The couple has already written wills in the event of possible disaster, although they are confident of succes. The flight will be made in a black monoplane named 'The Seafarer" which Mollison has jocularly dubbed the 'Flying Coffin."

FIRE THREATENS POWHATAN TODAY

POWHATAN, June 3. Threatening for a time to spread into Powhatan's business district, fire today completely destroyed two dwellings here and forced their residents to flee to the street in night clothing.

The fire started in the home occupied by Mrs. John Kovach and spread to the nearby house of Andy Sakey before fire-fighting equipment could be rushed here from Bellaire and Shadeside to bring the flames under control.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

BOY BREAKS ARM

John Neuding, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Neuding of 514 Ellis-ave, suffered a fracture of the left arm at the wrist at 5 p. m. Friday when he tripped and fell while playing in the backyard of his home.

Dr. D. V. Courtright attended the injury.

MULDOON IS DEAD

PURCHASE, N. Y., June 3.—William Muldoon, 88-year-old dean of the New York state athletic commission, died at his home at 4:40 this morning.

Muldoon had been gradually failing in health for the last two years. Only a few days ago he celebrated his birthday but was too weak to give out his annual interview on health and sports.

He had lost weight rapidly within the last year and appeared only a shadow of the man who was once a famous wrestler and who handled John L. Sullivan.

POPE PIUS IRED BY SPANISH LAW

VATICAN CITY, June 3.— An encyclical letter vigorously protesting against the new anti-religious laws in Spain was issued by Pope Pius XI today.

"Now that Spain has passed its law concerning confessions and religious congregations," the Pontiff wrote, "I must raise my voice anew. The law comprises a new and even more serious attack against religion and the church, as well as those accepted principles of civic freedom upon which the new Spanish regime pretends to base itself."

'ARMY' YOUTHS LEAVE SUNDAY FOR FAR WEST

Kenneth Henn Writes Telling Contingent to Leave Fort Knox

FRESNO IS OBJECT

Officers and Camp Life Lauded in Letter

Pickaway-co's 45 youths in the reforestation army will leave Sunday morning for Fresno, California, according to a communication received here Saturday from Kenneth Henn, local youth, and reporter for The Herald in the forest army outfit.

Henn's Saturday letter said "We have just received word to be ready to leave Sunday, June 4, for California. We have also been informed that our outfit is the best in this area of about 2,500 members."

The communication lauded the camp's officers and praised the entire operation of the forest army set-up at least as far as Fort Knox, Ky., is concerned. Local persons who wish to write to Circleville and Pickaway-co boys in the camp should address their communications in care of Company 587.

RUMOR CONFIRMED

It was reported earlier in the week by Doyle Hulse, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hulse, Jackson-twp, that rumors were circulating that the outfit was to go to California but the rumor was unconfirmed until Henn's letter was received.

The contingent will be centered in one of California's rugged national parks.

"We are having a great time in camp," Henn wrote. We are having lots of fun and little work. We got our first taste of action Thursday when we chopped wood for the cooking tents.

"Our officers are swell fellows and after we leave here it is reported we will have only some of our own men for officers. Will write about the trip to California after we get there."

7 DEAD IN BLAST, FIRE

Rich Signal Hill Oil Refinery Scene of Terrific Explosion

LONG BEACH, Cal., June 3.—Seven persons were known dead, four were missing, and property damage was estimated at $2,500,000 today in a terrific oil refinery blast and fire in the Rich Signal Hill oil field here.

The entire Signal Hill district was menaced yesterday by an explosion and fire that destroyed the $1,000,000 Richfield Oil company absorption plant.

The roar was heard in Los Angeles and other cities thirty miles away, and widespread alarm was created in those cities and in Long Beach and other coast cities that another earthquake had struck.

Firemen controlled the fire after it had raged for four hours, destroying 20 oil derricks, totally demolishing 10 homes in the north Long Beach residential district, and materially damaging 75 or 80 other residences.

Near the absorption plant 12 1,000-barrel oil tanks went up in flames with the fuel they contained.

E. S. Roper, of Pinckney-st, returned to his home Saturday after an operation at Dr. C. G. Stewart's office ten days ago.

STADIUM FALL KILLS BOY, 16

Paulding Delegate Falls 109 From O. S. U. Football Stadium During Night

COLUMBUS, June 3.—Claire Arend, 16-year-old Paulding, O., schoolboy delegate to the Ohio Future Farmers' convention here, today plunged 109 feet to his death from the top of the Ohio State University football stadium.

The body of the boy, badly crushed, was found by Ralph Sturgeon of Caldwell, another delegate to the convention.

Police, investigating the fatal accident, said that some of the 1,800 boys attending the future farmers' meeting were quartered last night at the stadium. Reports were being checked that Arend fell while he and several others were walking around the top of the stadium during the night.

Pickaway-co Future Farmers taking part in the judging contests, according to G. D. Bradley, county instructor, included Earle and Hay Carter, George Fisher and Harold Hott, of Jaskson-twp; Clarence Miller, Harold Anderson, Howard Carroll, Charles Kreisel, Jack Rhodes, Maurice Jury, Nelson Warner and John Miller of Pickaway-twp. Other boys who made the trip include Berlin Cotterall, Walter Cotterall, Phillip Wilson, Robert Vandervort, Junior Mowery, Harold Riffel and Weldon Leist.

Nine judging contests include live stock, dairy cattle, sheep, poultry, wool, meat, milk, agricultural engineering and corps.

Besides judging the youths are enjoying trips through various points of interest in Columbus.

CITY POLITICS 'BUZZ'; FILING DATE IS NEAR

Deadline for Filing Petitions is Next Friday at 6:30 P. M.

MANY UNDECIDED

Citizens League to Fill Council Slate

Political activity in the city was expected to increase early next week with the deadline at noon for petitions declaring candidacy to be filed. All petitions must be in the hands of Harry E. Weill, clerk of the board of elections, not later than 6:30 p. m. next Friday, June 9.

The primary will be August 8. Several potential candidates have not declared their intentions and several who were considering seeking nomination have decided not to go through with their plans for various reasons.

As the situation now stands there will be only two candidates for mayor with no contest, in either the Democratic or Republican primaries. William B. Cady, defeated two years ago for the Democratic nomination by George M. Fitzpatrick, has filed his petition for the nomination and so has Mayor B. T. Hedges, seeking a fourth term on the Republican ticket.

SEVERAL IN QUANDRY

Several men have been sizing the outlook and are still wavering, not determined which way to go. Little time remains for them to settle their debates.

A contest over council jobs was seen today when it was learned Vattier Courtright, representative of the Citizens League, had obtained five petitions from Mr. Weill to be placed in the hands of candidates for council seats. As a result a scrap with utilities on one side and the municipal-ownership plan on the other may enter in the primary.

Just which of the present councilmen will be supported by the league has not been disclosed. Several of the councilmen have petitions but as yet have not filed them.

REID IN FIELD

William M. Reid, E. Union-st, former school teacher, is the only avowed candidate in the field for council. He now has his petition ready to file. He will oppose Taft M. Barnes for councilman from the fourth ward. Mr. Barnes has his petition signed and ready to be filed but has not yet placed it in the hands of Mr. Weill.

No opposition has been heard against either Miss Lillian Young, auditor; Lawrence J. Johnson, treasurer, and Carl C. Leist, who is seeking the office of solicitor now held by Paul E. Adkins who does not plan to again ask the nomination.

A hot fight is seen for the job as justice of peace of the township, which office is now held by E. C. Friece. Three others have papers in circulation and are expected to file for the office.

Members of city council, none of whom have expressed their intentions, include; John C. Goeller, president; C. O. Leist, first ward; Julius Helwagen, second ward; Clark Will, third ward; Mr. Barnes, fourth ward; E. S. Neuding, Mack Parrett Jr., and Frank Marion, councilmen-at-large.

MORE SOLDIER PAY INCLUDED IN BILL

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A $170,000,000 boost in veterans' compensation was thrown into conference today, following senate passage of the 1934 independent officers appropriation bill at a night session.

The increase brought the total of the bill to more than $710,000,000.

The amendment making necessary an additional appropriation for veterans' relief was offered by Senator Connally (D) of Texas. Administration leaders supported it as a more drastic amendment by Senator Trammell (D) of Florida.

COW OR DONKEY AND COW IT IS

It was either the mule or the cow, so Frank Valentine, Pickaway-twp, picked the cow. He was driving in Saltcreek-twp near the Dreisbach church, at dusk Friday evening, when in starting down over a hill he saw a cow and a mule being walked down the road by Thad Hill, Saltcreek-twp. Mr. Valentine saw that he must hit one of the animals so he picked the cow. Two appraisers were to be named to value it when its leg was broken.

Auditorium Crowded For Hi School Music Program

Audience Praises Work of Four Instrumental Units of School

The large and appreciative audience that packed the Circleville high school auditorium Friday evening to see and hear four school musical organizations, all of which have been developed during the past three years, was loud in its praise of the efforts of C. F. Zaenglein, the director, who has furnished the stimulus for a revived interest in music never before known here.

The four units, the junior band, junior orchestra, high school band and high school orchestra, provided a program that was thoroughly pleasing to all in attendance. Under the ever-effective baton of Mr. Zaenglein, the musical units were always responsive to the guidance of the director and each selection was played without noticeable error.

GRINER FEATURES

Special mention should be given Ned Griner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griner of E. Franklin-st, and one of Mr. Zaenglein's accomplished musicians, who directed the junior orchestra in all of its selections. Griner exhibited unusual ability in handling the group, especially since it must be remembered that members of the junior orchestra are beginners.

The junior orchestra was organized during the past year and if it continues to make such rapid progress the high school group will be forced to improve to keep ahead of it.

Approximately 30 members make up the junior orchestra. The following program was offered by this unit, march, Friendship; overture, White Queen, caprice, Dancing Moonbeams, and march, East vs. West.

Evidence that the high school orchestra becomes a bigger and better unit as each year rolls by, was seen last evening. A number of persons who have watched the orchestra grow for a number of

Dear Parents, Grandparents, Aunts and Uncles:

A Vacation Bible School should be just what its name emplies—a happy pleasant vacation school where children may learn to know and love the Bible, the Heavenly Father and their Savior Jesus Christ.

The main purpose of our school will be to teach the children in an interesting appealing way and in a language that they can really understand those Bible truths which are necessary for the real foundation of Christian character. For this reason the Bible story period will be the main feature each day, the music memory work, Bible expression and handwork will be co-ordinated with and related to the Bible story period and each will have a definite religious value.

The school opens this Tuesday June 6 at 8:30 a. m. in Parish house. The following course will be offered:

Bible Story Period, Object Lesson Period, Construction Work Period, Know Your Bible Period, Music Period, Recreation Period, and a Novelty Period consisting of Biblical Games Pictures, Puzzles and Dramatization.

As is evident this school will be strictly religious. Open to all children between the ages of 4 and 16.

No admission charges and no other expenses. A corps of competent teachers will be on hand to give their services.

Parents and relatives are you not desirous to see these little buds of ours unfolding their lives under the warm sunlight of God's love and care, forming into beautiful fragrant flowers in God's garden of souls and making true disciples to follow and serve Jesus their master with a pure and holy Christian life. Yours in the Lord's cause.

This is Pentecost Sunday-the birthday of the Christian Church. From what a small beginning has grown this mighty organization of the Christian Church which now embraces, nominally at least, half the world in its membership. It is still a virile and conquering organization. Its message reaches men in their deepest needs. It alone touches men in their sin and need of forgiveness. Wherever Jesus Christ is known he is hailed as the ideal and leader of our humanity. this regardless of country or local religion. By him all actions are judged. The day is coming when nations and individuals will stand before his judgment seat. As the leader he invites our allegiance. Go to church tomorrow. Take a friend.

Jones was hurrying along a street one night, when another man, also in violent haste, rushed out from a side street and the two collided with great force.

The second man looked angry, but Jones, with his native courtesy, raised his hat and said:

"My dear sir, I do not know which of us is to blame for this collision, but I am in too great hurry to investigate. If I ran into you, I beg your pardon; if you ran into me, don't mention it!"

Then he tore away at redoubled speed.

The Church Invites You

Theodore Roosevelt and the Church

Theodore Roosevelt once said, "Every churchless community is on the downgrade. Church membership cultivates the feeling of responsibility for others."

"You may not hear a great sermon. You will hear a message from a man who is trying to make hard lives a little easier. You will hear read some beautiful passages from the Scriptures. If you miss these you will suffer a great loss."

"There are plenty of holidays. On the Sabbath go to church." Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

Lesson for June 4

JESUS FACES BETRAYAL AND DENIAL

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:10-72.

GOLDEN TEXT—He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. Isaiah 53:3.

PRIMARY TOPIC — Jesus and Peter.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Lord's Supper.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Loyalty in Times of Testing.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Fellowship of His Sufferings.

I. Judas' Bargain With the Chief Priests (vv. 10, 11).

This black crime was committed immediately following the beautiful act of devotion by Mary (John 12:1).

II. The Last Passover (vv. 12:25).

1. The preparation (vv. 12-16). In reply to the inquiry of the disciples as to where they should prepare the Passover for him, Jesus told them to go into the city where they would meet a man bearing a pitcher of water, whom they should follow. In the house, to which they would be led, would be a guest chamber, a large uper room, where they should make ready the Passover.

2. The betrayal announced (vv. 17-21). The betrayal was to be by one of the disciples who was eating with Jesus.

3. The sacrament of the bread and cup (vv. 22-25). These were smybols of his broken body and shed blood by which he made atonement for man's sins.

III. Jesus Foretells the Cowardice of the Disciples (vv. 26-31).

In spite of their turning from him, Jesus assured them that after his resurrection he would go before them into Galilee. Peter assured Jesus that he would not forsake him.

IV. The Agony in Gethsemane (vv. 32-42).

1. Jesus Christ's agony (vv. 32-34).

a. The place (v. 32). The Garden of Gethsemane, an enclosure containing olive and fig trees, beyond the brook Kidron, about three-fourths of a mile from Jerusalem. Gethsemane means olive press. Edersheim says it is an emblem of trial, distress and agony.

b. His companions (v. 33). He took with him the eleven disciples, that as far as possible they might share his sorrow with him.

c. His great sorrow (v. 34). This is the same "cup" as in verse 36. It was not primarily the prospect of physical suffering that was crushing him; it was his suffering as a sin-bearer—his pure soul coming into contact with the awful sin and guilt of the world. God caused the iniquities of the world to strike upon Jesus (II Cor. 5:21; Isa. 53:6).

2. Jesus Christ praying (vv. 35-42).

a. The first prayer (vv. 35-38).

(1) His posture (v. 35). He fell on his face prostrate to the ground.

(2) His petition (v. 36). By the cup is meant his death on the cross. While it was grievous to endure the shame of the cross, he pressed on knowing that for this cause he had come into the world. (John 12:27, 28; cf. Heb. 2:14).

(3) His resignation (v. 36). He knew that his death on the cross was the will of God the Father, for he was the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

(4) The disciples rebuked (v. 37). He singled out Peter, since he had been the most conspicuous in proclaiming his loyalty (John 13:38).

(5) Exhortation to the disciples (v. 38). He said, "Watch and pray, lest ye enter into temptation."

b. The second prayer (vv. 39, 40). He withdrew the second time and uttered the same words in prayer.

c. The third prayer (vv. 41, 42). He uttered the same words in his third prayer (Matt. 36:44). He now told the disciples to sleep on and take their rest as the four had come for his betrayal.

V. The Betrayal and Arrest of Jesus (vv. 43-65).

1. The sign to the mob (vv. 43-47). With the basest of hypocrisy Judas designated Jesus to the mob by a kiss, the token of love.

2. Jesus forsaken by all (vv. 48-52). One of the disciples attempted to defend Jesus by resorting to the sword (Matt. 26:51). At Jesus' rebuke for this act the disciples all fled.

VI. Peter Denies the Lord (vv 66-72).

His failure was due to:

1. Boasting self-confidence (vv 29-31).
2. Lack of watchfulness (v. 37)
3. Neglect of prayer (v. 38).
4. Service in the energy of the flesh (v. 47).
5. Following Jesus afar off (v 64).
6. Seeking company among the Lord's enemies (v. 67).

Church Forum

What can the churches do to aid in the unemployed's use of their leisure time?

Dr. Worth M. Tippy answers this question in a recent article in the Federated Council Bulletin. He says "When twelve million people have been out of work for months, a large percentage of them for three years ,their days drag terribly. The church can provide frequent fellowship luncheons or dinners open to everybody in the congregation at lowest prices. The church can provide classes in handcrafts. It can also offer courses for adults, not only in religion but also on art and commercial problems. Finally there can be old-time new-time revival meetings, fusing personal religion with the great social undertakings vitally related to human welfare and proclaim the glad tidings that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand in the form of a more Christian social order."

World Religious News

In a war poll conducted recently by the University of Washington Daily, 75 per cent of the signers stated they would not bear arms in all wars but must be allowed to decide when the emergency presented itself. Only 23 per cent would cross the seas to defend the rights of American citizens abroad.

The oldest pipe organ in Louisiana was repaired recently for use in the services of Easter Sunday. For nearly a century and a half the beautiful old organ in the Cathedral of New Orleans-dedicated Christmas, 1794-has provided music for weddings, funerals, centennials and jubilees. Several of the original pipes still remain.

Many of the religious periodicals of the Methodist church are advocating a drastic change in the usual annual conference programs where much of the time of the bishop and district superintendents is taken up with the making of appointments. There is a movement on to make few changes of pastors, effect pastoral changes during the year and reduce the time of the annual session to two or three days.

Announcement of the appointment of Professor Shirley Jackson Case as dean of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago has just been made. Professor Case, an eminent scholar of early Christian history and a member of the faculty since 1908, will succeed Dean Shailer Mathews who retires at the age of 70 June [illegible]. Dr. Case has been editor of the Journal of Religion since 1921. He last year acted as chairman of the Church History Commission to the Orient, the object of which was to stimulate the collection of original source materials for the history of indigenous religions.

One of the outstanding features of the Chicago World's Fair will be a Hall of Religion. The growth of the Protestant church during the past century will be portrayed through exhibits brought from all corners of the earth. A program of conferences will be directed to clarifying the objectives and methods for the solution of present social problems.

DUCK-PIN CONTESTS OPEN MONDAY AT 9

Bluffton, Ind., Team to Take Runways; Many Features Planned

LOCALS HAVE CHANCE

Red Trautman to Present Meet Trophies

Circleville's initial big bowling tournament, the Midwest duck-pin matches, will open Monday at 9 a. m. with one the toughest teams entered in the meet to take the alleys. That outfit is the Bluffton, Ind., aggregation.

From 9 o'clock until the tournament ends action will be the by-word of the alleys with sixteen towns and cities entered for the festivities. It is expected between 150 and 200 bowlers will take part during the two days.

A number of teams from this city are entered and from scores they have been posting they have a good chance to gain high positions. The Herdman-Leasure team will be especially watched by local enthusiasts because of the fine scores it has been bowling. The Maloney Specials, Sensenbrenner Signs, Franklin Inns, and several other aggregations promise to be tough. Doubles and singles will be bowled by all entrants.

TRAUTMAN TO APPEAR

A feature of the tournament will be the presence of George "Red" Trautman, president of the Columbus Baseball club, who will present trophies to winners at the conclusion of Tuesday's nights festivities.

Trautman's work in obtaining the American Bowling Congress tourney for Columbus won him wide recognition. He has promised William Packard, manager of the local alleys, to be here.

Another feature of the tourney will be a broadcast of results over station WCAH between 7 and 7:15 p. m. Monday and Tuesday with the final results to be announced Wednesday.

TOURNEY FACTS

Trophies are being provided by the local chamber of Commerce.

Following are a few facts concerning the tournament; team traveling greatest distance, Boonville, Ind., 350 miles; five man team traveling greatest distance, Rochester, Ind., 340 miles; highest average man in the meet, W. Uptegraph, Bluffton, Ind., the Boonville doubles team is hitch-hiking to the city; highest scores made by entries in the tourney, T. Oyer, Mt. Sterling and Willis Liston, this city, 210; officials of tourney to include foul judges, official score-keepers and an official pin-spot man.

An admission charge of 30 cents is being made at the door with a ticket being given which entitles the holder to three games anytime during the week.

HAMBRICK THIRD IN EARLY ROUND

Zanesville Pro Follows Von Elm and Jim Foulis in St. Paul Meet

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 3.—Two new pretenders to golfing glory and several local favorites defied the old guard today as the St. Paul $5,000 open swung into its second 18-hole round. But the popular opinion was that, when the firing ends Sunday evening after the final 36-hol round it would still be a member of the old guard that would still be champion.

George Von Elm took charge of the situation in the early medal play yesterday as he shaved two strokes off the par 72 of Keller course. But he was forced to share the lead as Jim Foulis of Hinsdale, Ill., bounding in with a pair of 35's himself, swung abreast as the field of 156 neared the close.

Von Elm refused to be worried by a stiff wind, and his putting helped materially to put him in the lead.

Trailing by two strokes was Archie Hambrick, diminutive Zanesville, O., pro who won the driving contest on the opening day.

Bracketed with 73 strokes were two Ryder cup team members, Walter Hagen and Paul Runyon, and two local players, Les Bolstad and Leonard Mattson.

Among the old guard shooting 74 in the medal play were Harry Cooper and Olin Dutra, winner of the P. G. A. championship last year. With them stood Johnny Revolta, Wisconsin open champion, Lee Herron, amateur holder of the Minnesota open title, and Ernie Penfold, Minneapolis pro.

MALONEYS WIN

The Maloney Specials turned back that Goodchild Shell Oils Friday evening in an interesting bowling match, 1748 to 1669 pins.

Bob Peters, anchor-man for the Maloneys, turned in an excellent 131, 131, 164-426 total to pace the ten bowlers.

SIMMONS STILL IS LEADING RUTH

Audience Praises Work of Four Instrumental Units of School

CHICAGO, June 3.—Al Simmons, slugging outfielder of the White Sox, was still leading Babe Ruth today in the popular vote to select an American league team of all-stars to face the best in the National loop here July 6.

Simmons has 40,278 votes to 38,151 for the Babe. Averill of Cleveland was less than 2,000 ballots behind Ruth.

Lou Gehrig was out in front of Jimmy Foxx by 20,000 in the balloting for first base while Lefty Grove of Philadelphia apparently had the hurling honors cinched.

OVER 50,000 WILL SEE HEAVY BATTLE

NEW YORK, June 3.—The minimum attendance at the Baer-Schmeling fight here next Thursday will be 50,000, ticket speculators estimated today.

They base their estimate on the fact that today, five days before the fight, the advance ticket sale totals $83,000, even though "tops" are only $11.50. Six days before the Sharkey-Schmeling fight last year, at which the top price was $23, the advance sale was $67,000. That show grossed $440,000.

How Will World Respond to Roosevelt Plea?

President Roosevelt's courageous espousal of the disarmament proposals of Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and his plea to the nations of the earth for a non-aggression pact came at a time when a straightforward talk was vitally needed. In Germany, Chancellor Adolf Hitler, backed by millions of Nazi Storm Troopers and Steel Helmets, was believed ready to push the peace of Europe off its pedestal; in China, the victorious legions of Emperor Hirohito of Japan were pursuing their "unofficial" war, and in Russia, the powerful Red Army was ready for anything that might come. These three mighty nations, as well as fifty-one others, received copies of President Roosevelt's proposals, the copy to Soviet Russia being directly addressed to Michail Kalinin, President of the Central Executive Council. The question now to be answered is "How will the nations respond?"

Birds Cop First From Miller '9'

The Columbus Red Birds outlasted the Minneapolis Millers, Friday, to win the first game of an important series. The score was 9-6.

The early stages of the fray were slow with free hitting and generally poor pitching holding. Hi Vandenberg started for the Millers and Clarence Heise for the Birds but neither finished.

A first inning home run by Lee Norris with two aboard the paths gave the Millers a nice lead and two more in the third helped a lot. The Birds hopped on Vandenberg with Art Shires' home run climaxing an attack that put the club within a run of the invaders. Two more markers gave the Birds a one run edge but when Minneapolis again threatened Heise was taken out and Bud Teachout went in.

The Millers tied the score at six-all where it remained until the eighth when hits by Anderson and Slade gave the Birdies a three run Margin.

Teachout was breezing along but in the ninth when Norris doubled and Manager Bancroft put a right handed hitter into bat for Ruble, Manager Blades yanked Teachout and inserted Paul Dean. All Dean did was fan the three ninth inning batters.

The teams meet again this afternoon and in a double-header Sunday.

Other Association games resulted in St. Paul and Toledo splitting a double bill and Louisville defeating Kansas City, 7 to 1.

tempt a non-stop leg of the flight to Edmonton, Canada, the longest stretch of his proposed route. From Edmonton, his course will take him to Chicago and thence back to Bennett field.

Tentative stops at Nome and Fairbanks, Alaska, were included but with good luck he hoped to skip both.

A crowd of several hundred cheered the pilot as he lifted his ship from the runway into the sky. Many of the spectators had remained at the field all night since the arrival of Lieut. Comm. Frank Hawks at the end of his record-breaking transcontinental flight in a plane equipped with a robot pilot.

Mattern's plane, powered with a 600 h. p. Wasp motor, has a top speed of 200 miles per hour and a cruising speed of 150 miles per hour. It was not equipped with radio. To add to its stability, the rudder was enlarged and the front landing gear shortened.

The daring pilot was in excellent spirits as he superintended last minute preparations for the flight. He conferred last night with Dr. James Kimball of the weather bureau about flying conditions, then went to bed.

TAKES ORANGES

He was called shortly after 3 a. m. today and arrived at the field shortly after 4:30 a. m. while the plane was fueled, he talked with Maj. Nelson Kelly, of Mitchel field and George Tilyou, his technical adviser. The fueling completed, Mattern stowed his half dozen oranges in the cockpit, shook hands with Maj. Kelly and Tilyou, climbed into the plane and taxied to the runway.

His take off was smooth and easy. Mattern swung the plane slightly and passed over Rockaway inlet, continuing out over the ocean in a wide left hand circle. He came back over the field at an altitude of about 250 feet, then turned east, gaining altitude.

Within four minutes the ship disappeared out over the sea.

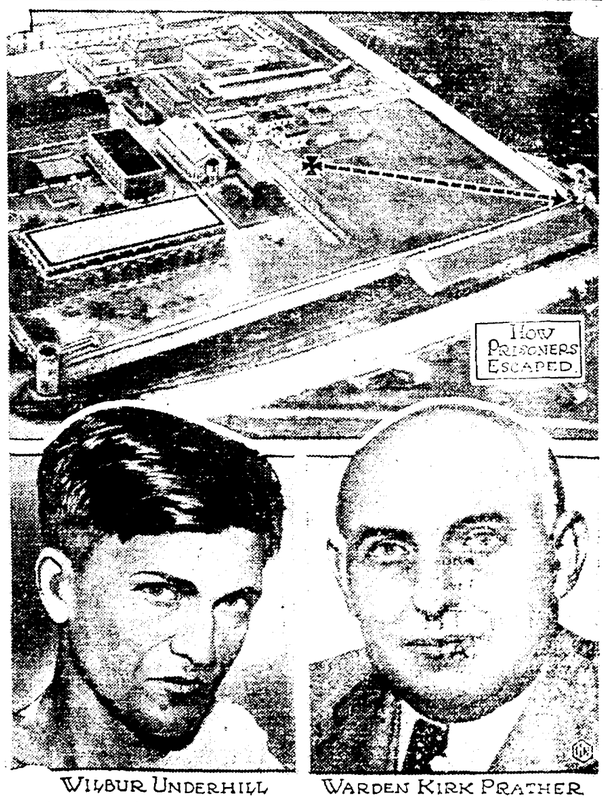
Kansas Jailbreak the Result of Loopholes in State Laws



WILBUR UNDERHILL WARDEN KIRK PRATHER

The desperate bid for freedom made by eleven convicts of the Kansas State Penitentiary at Lansing focuses attention on the divergence of State laws that made it possible. Wilbur Underhill, the leader of the break, had committed two murders in Oklahoma, whence he broke jail while serving a life sentence, when he killed Merle Colver, a Wichita, Kan., policeman. Rather than go back to Oklahoma, where there is capital punishment, to face trial for murder, Underhill chose to plead guilty to murder in Kansas, where there is no capital punishment, thus drawing a life sentence. In making their break, Underhill and his companions were well aware that they had all to gain and nothing to lose, for all were lifers. So also, had they slain Warden Kirk Prather and the two guards they had taken as hostages, the law could do no more to them—they already were serving the maximum sentence in Kansas.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST PATTERN BARGAIN

years remarked that last evening's concert was the finest that has been given for sometime. Four difficult but well delivered selections were included in the program. Mozart's allegro movement from Symphony No. 12 and a Country Dance in C by Beethoven were particularly delightful numbers. A great amount of difficult brass and string work was noticed in the former while the pretty melody of the latter attracted the audience. An overture, Venetian Carnival, and Dance Persian by Zamecnick were the other numbers offered by the senior group.

60 IN JUNIOR

The junior band with its 60 members next appeared and surprised the audience with its capable and efficient rendition of numbers which the senior band was playing two years ago. Each of the numbers was played in distinct time and was almost flawless in every other way. Two marches, Foursquare and Jolly Tars, a waltz, Martha, and two other selections, Sweet and Low and Battle Hymn of the Republic, made up the program.

The high school band in its three years of existence has advanced beyond the expectations of its followers and possibly the director. This unit, although diminished in numbers each year by graduation of its members, has nevertheless continued to grow and progress as a result of Mr. Zaenglein's ceaseless efforts. Criticism could not be justly offered to the program presented by the high school band last evening as it was as near perfect as desired by any audience. The program included two fast and snappy marches, Washington Post and The Thunderer; an overture, Festival; The Rosary, by a cornet quartette composed of Howard Ater, Gaylord Greenlee, Harry Hosler and Lloyd Truex, which was very capably given and was closed with The Star Spangled Banner.

Mr. Zaenglein was particularly happy over the way in which the program was received and he hopes to make these concerts annual affairs.

GIRL STILL GONE

CINCINNATI, June 3—A heavy cloud of mystery today continued to enshroud the kidnaping of tiny Pansy Sneed, five weeks old baby girl, as police, detectives and social welfare workers found themselves hampered by the lack of an apparent motive.

Pansy was carried away from her home last Wednesday morning by a woman, dressed in a white uniform who said she was a nurse. Since then, no trace has been found of either the baby girl or the "nurse."

...keasies Disappearing

MAJOR A. V. DALRYMPLE, national prohibition director, ...authority for the statement that ...000 speakeasies in the United ...States have been put out of business by the legalizing of 3.2 beer.

He made the statement while in San Francisco on an inspection trip along the Pacific coast. He based his estimate on reports received by his office from various parts of the country. The speakeasy casualties in New York and Chicago totaled 10,000 or more ...he said.

Further improvement of the situation will occur, he said, "When the breweries catch up and begin to distribute beer that has been aged up to 90 days, as it should be." He admitted that most of the beer being sold today is "fresh beer" because the consumers will not wait for it to be aged.

When this condition is corrected by the breweries "it will wreck the speakeasy business of the nation," he declared.

His conclusions as to present conditions in this field are supported by common observation. The speakeasies are having a hard time with many being forced out of business. The new beer, if it be intoxicating as many drys contend, is not causing an increase inobservable drunkenness. Reliable figures indicate that arrests for drunkenness are on the decrease. There has been no apparent sudden rise in automobile accidents, as drys predicted would be the case immediately following the legalization of beer.

The entire liquor situation seems to have undergone a distinct improvement.

One War Ended

THE League of Nations has brought two warring nations to a recognition of their league obligations by ceasing hostilities and submitting to the league for settlement the cause of the clash.

In impressive ceremonies at Geneva, Columbia and Peru formally agreed to end their fighting on the Amazon for the possession of Leticia. The terms of the report adopted by the league council last year were accepted. The disputed territory will be turned over to a league commission to administer pending settlement of the dispute through the commission. The latter is authorized to use international forces in maintaining order during the interime. The league having no military forces at its disposal, it was indicated that Columbian troops would be "internationalized" temporarily for service in the disputed area.

The settlement has particular interest for the United States by reason of the fact that it is the first time the league has intervened successfully in a dispute in that section of the world covered by the Monroe doctrine. A citizen of the United States will be on the commission to settle the quarrel.

The success of the league in ending the Amazon war doesn't take on the importance, of course, that would attack to it if the warring nations had been world powers. It, nevertheless, is one star in the crown of the league and comes at a time when the latter's prestige and influence had suffered serious decline. The possibility of its proving an influential example to other nations to adopt peaceful means of settling their disputes gives the league achievement additional importance.

THE CHALLENGE OF LOVE
by WARWICK DEEPING

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN

"Pity! There's a great deal of pity wasted on the poor. Bless my soul, they don't feel things as you think they feel them. If you let yourself be persuaded by all this sentimental nonsense, it may cost you thousands of pounds."

Thus old Crump warming his coat-tails before a roaring fire at "Pardons," radiating a fatherly slyness, and talking to cheat John Wolfe of the compassion he had stirred in the heart of Ursula Brandon. Young Aubrey, his leg in plaster-of-Paris, was able to hobble about with two sticks. He had developed a curious liking for Wolfe. Crump, the cynic, suspected that the mother had followed the example of the son.

"I can't confess to much love for the poor."

"You are quite right, madam; they are not lovable. Leave them alone. Whatever you do, they'll grumble."

"But one has responsibilities."

"And we fulfil them. Suppose you tell me that it is Mr. Wolfe's opinion that Navestock should be turned upside down, I answer you, 'My dear madam, it is Mr. Wolfe's business to have such opinions. Every man's profession, including the profession of religion, is his business. Never take a so-called expert too seriously'."

She looked past the lawyer into the heart of the fire.

"Do you suggest that the man is not sincere?"

"I suggest nothing of the kind. On the contrary, he is a thing that I abominate—a fanatic. This sort of man rides his hobby to death. And he is ready to fight for it—as young Turrell discovered."

"Was there anything in that piece of gossip?"

"Hector Turrell went out to thrash and got thrashed. That much is certain. I for one did not grieve."

It was Crump who did more than any other man to consolidate the opposition in Navestock against Wolfe's reforms. He had a reassuring and cynical shrewdness that smiled all extravagant opinions out of court. He even purged Rev. Flemming, temporarily, of the doubts that had afflicted him.

"An enthusiast always overstates his case, sir. Let things lie quiet for a year, let the mud settle. Then we may see the bottom of the pond. I abominate flurry. It is preposterous to think of our being hustled into some wild scheme by old Crabbe and a pair of fanatics like Wolfe and Boxall. No. Let us take any useful hints, but let us make our reforms at our own time and in our own way. It doesn't do to let passion into these things."

"But supposing an epidemic should arise?"

"That is one of their platform words, Mr. Flemming. It's a ghost made of a sheet and a broomstick. I know that kind of ghost."

Consciously, or unconsciously, Navestock adopted Crump's attitude of stolid, sensible cynicism. The Tory paper, extraordinarily wise for once in its career, ignored the whole business. Boxall, of "The Clarion," kept up an absurd trumpeting, but the walls of Jericho did not totter. Hardly a head appeared above the battlements to see what was happening in the plain below. The watcher on the walls saw nothing but palm trees, and a ridiculously lean and leaping dervish blowing at a trumpet and waving a red flag.

Then winter came, and with it phenomenal December floods that washed all theoretical squabblings into temporary oblivion. The Wraith overflowed its banks and swamped the river meadows and the low-lying parts of the town.

The flood had Biblical leanings, in that it lasted seven days. It left Navestock sodden and depressed. The raw, stagnant air was smitten through and through with frost. The floors and foundations of many of the cottages were so much pulp. Wolfe, with Turpin splashing through the black flood-water, had prophesied a bad winter for Navestock in the way of sickness. He was right.

By the middle of December Wolfe found himself up to the throat in work. It was forced upon him, despite his unpopularity, by the fact that he had become necessary to the town. Threadgold's new assistant was an amiable and bleating fool. Wolfe ran up against him now and then, a thin youth with puzzled spectacles, a huge forehead, and a weak, conciliatory smile. The man was a muff, and the people would have none of him. He could not even gossip to the old women. The children called him "Old Ba-lamb" to his face. Threadgold was run off his little pattering legs.

Squabbles about theories gave way before the importunities of facts. "The Clarion" turned aside to attack the riparian owners who were responsible for the waters of the Wraith. "Pardons" was empty, its mistress flown southwards where grey olive trees and a blue sea made the white walls of the South gleam more whitely. Robert Flemming was spending hours beside sick-beds. A new wing was being built at Turrell's brewery, and the Turrells were taken up with bricks and mortar. Josiah Crabbe had gone to bed with his first attack of bronchitis. Navestock was too busy for the moment to spend itself in quarrels. The combatants went into winter quarters, and waited for warmer and more litigious weather in the spring.

It turned out that on Christmas morning Wolfe had to walk to Josiah Crabbe's through three inches of snow. The Lombardy poplars by Josiah Crabbe's were huge, white-bearded Druids. The clouds had broken, and a blue sky covered the world.

Quite early, before the church bells had begun ringing and muffled folk went plodding through the snow, Wolfe had to collar a boy and offer him a shilling to take a letter up to Moor Farm. "I can't get through with my work by noon," he wrote. "More messages and too much snow. You must dine alone. I will try to be with you by tea time."

The boy had his shilling, and a couple of mince-pies at the farm.

Jess was grieved.

"Why couldn't they let him have just this one day?"

Her mother acted while Jess deplored.

"Sally, keep the beef out of the oven. Dr. Wolfe can't get here by noon. We'll dine at six instead."

The sparkle was soon back in Jess's eyes.

"Shall I do it, Mother?"

"If you like, child. You had better let me."

"No, I want to try for myself. I wonder whether he will be surprised."

It was a complex business—this first piling up of rebellious hair, with stray tendrils escaping, and the whole mass threatening to tumble down like a cataract. Jess had her own conception as to how her hair should be done. She was prejudiced against nets, remembering how Miss Edith Wilks's hair looked like a sandy-coloured ferret stuffed into a rabbit-net. Ribbons, pins, and combs were scattered over Jess's dressing-table. She had borrowed her mother's hand-glass, and between it and her own little Georgian mirror, swinging in its mahogany frame, decision faltered hypercritically.

A long black skirt lay on the bed. Jess put it on, and, holding her head a little on one side, looked at herself in a long pier-glass. What a transfiguration! She went nearer and gazed at herself almost ruefully as though she were taking leave of an old friend. A solemn mood seized her. She drew a chair before the fire, sat down, and stared at the flames. Something was happening! She had changed suddenly. Life, too, had changed. For a moment she felt a passionate desire to throw herself back into the arms of the past.

"Jess, Jess, are you coming, child?"

She was on the last step but one before she saw John Wolfe. He had been hanging his ulster on one of the pegs under the stairs. Jess paused with one hand on the rail, for Wolfe was standing and looking up at her with an expression that she did not understand.

Discover a New Serum For Typhus

It Protects Against a Certain Form of This Deadly Fever

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

IN MY mail today I received two unusual letters. One letter requested information about typhus fever. The other was a report of recent work on this disease conducted by the United States public health service and the Mexican government. Announcement was made of the discovery of a serum which protects against a certain form of typhus fever.

This is of special interest to the inhabitants of Mexico and the citizens of the southern states. In this territory typhus fever is still prevalent.

This is one of the most deadly diseases known to mankind. It is always associated with filth and unhygienic surroundings. It was especially prevalent when little was known about sanitation and wretched living conditions were common.

Often Confused With Typhoid

Typhus fever is often confused with typhoid fever. But the diseases are quite different and run different courses. Typhus fever is carried by a germ found in rats. It is carried from one rat to another by rat lice and fleas. It is transmitted to humans by fleas.

Typhoid fever is caused by a germ called the "bacillus typhyosus". This is found in contaminated food, milk and water supplies. Like typhus fever, the disease at one time was prevalent throughout the world. Fortunately, we have a vaccine called the typhoid vaccine which prevents the disease. Due to proper supervision of food, water and milk and the use of typhoid vaccine, the disease is now rarely encountered.

For many years experimental research has endeavored to discover a vaccine for typhus fever similar to the vaccine successfully used against typhoid fever. It is hoped that the announcement of the new typhus fever vaccine will aid in the eradication of this disease.

Cleanliness Essential

Of course typhus fever can be prevented by improvement in social conditions and the destruction of dark, crowded tenements and unsanitary homes. Like many other diseases, the prevention of typhus fever is largely a matter of personal cleanliness. It is for this reason that the disease has greatly decreased as civilization and education have spread over the face of the earth.

Let us hope for the continued success of those scientists who daily labor in their efforts to make this world a cleaner and safer place in which to live. Their success will lead to the ultimate wiping out of typhus fever and other dreaded diseases.

Gentle curves rather than sudden bulges are what the modern chorus director looks for among applicants for places in motion picture choruses, according to Busby Berkeley, who selected and trained the choruses appearing in the new Warner Bros. all-star picture, "42nd Street," which comes to the Grand Theatre on Sunday.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Edward G. Robinson learns some strange tricks in love from three women in his new starring vehicle for First National, "The Little Giant," showing at the Cliftona Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The three who give him lessons in as many varieties of love making are Shirley Grey, as a gangster's moll, is his first love. Robinson, as the leader of a gang of racketeers who has made his pile and hopes to crash the social circles is at perfect ease in dealing with her because she is supposed to speak his language.

Others in the cast of this hilarious and exciting comedy-drama include Kenneth Thompson, Russell Hopton, Berton Churchill and Donald Dillaway. Roy Del Ruth directed.

MOTHER AND SON

STURGIS, Mich. — Graduates from Sturgis high school June 6 will include Mrs. Ruby Ginther, 40, and her son, Clarke, 18, both members of Kappa Sigma Kappa, honorary society. Clarke plans to enter the University of Chicago in the fall for pre-medicine study, while his mother hopes to enter a nursing school.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

THERE'S one more report come in from the Fourth of July. A guy was seriously injured in Aberdeen for telling this joke. He said his little Scotch cousin in America went to his dad and asked for some noise-makers for the Fourth. The old man said never mind, he would take care of him for snappy noise when the big day come around. So the kid waited, and on the morning of the Fourth the dad brought out a new bottle of glue.

"I paid a nickle for this," he says, "and you can put it on your thumb, a wee bit at a time, and snap your fingers loud all day."

Laughing Around the World

A Double Profit

By IRVIN S. COBB

THERE was a Broadway sport who loved to boast. One day he met an impecunious friend and, for the moment forgetting that the latter was a chronic borrower, was moved to do a little bragging.

"I guess I'm a pretty smart fellow," said the fictionist. "Only yesterday I sold a dog for $10,000."

"You don't mean to say that you got ten thousand dollars for a dog?" asked the other.

"Yep. A rich man took a fancy to the pup and bought him on the spot."

His friend eyed him speculatively.

"Well, I'm glad to hear it," he said, "because I know now you'll do me a favor. My wife's got to go to the hospital tomorrow for an operation. I'm dead broke and the doctor won't touch her until I put up the dough. Now, you're rich all of a sudden—you've got all that money. Let me have a couple of hundred, will you?"

For just the fractional part of a minute the romancer was stumped. Then he rallied.

"I'd do it in a minute if I could," he explained; "but I can't."

"But you just told me you sold your dog for ten thousand dollars."

"Yes, but you see that rich man didn't pay me in cash. He gave me two cats at five thousand apiece."

CIRCLEVILLE SCHOOLS' PAPER—DEPARTMENT OF THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

33. VOL. 6, ISSUE 263. CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO. SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1933.

The Retrospect Of The 1932-33 School Year

HI-Y

At the closing of the school year, it is proper that we should offer a retrospect of the important doings of the Hi-Y club for this year 1932-33.

This retrospect follows: October 21 1932, C. F. Hax selected assistant advisor to the club. Ned Colver appointed chairman of program committee for the year; December 1, 1932, Bill Ashbrook, Harold Baughman, Joe Bell, Horace Gilmore, Bill Gunning, Jim Kyle, Otis Mader, Bob May, Mark Maxey, Edgar McClure, Ned Plum, Jim Reichelderfer, John Robinson, Russel Skaggs, George Speakman and Jacob Towers initiated into the club; December 8, 1932, John Mason, Howard Ater, Lincoln Mader, Oakley Warner and E. I. Gephart report on Hi-Y convention, Columbus; January 12, 1233, Tom Renick and Doctor H. D. Jackson selected as uptown advisors to the club; February 9, 1933, Girl Reserve and Hi-Y have joint banfeed. T. A. Renick talks; March 2, 1933, Paul Davis, Jack Foresman, Tom Kirwin, Robert Shadley and William Weldon iniated at second initiation of the year; March 21 1933, Circleville and Pickaway Hi-Y clubs go to Columbus for swim at Y. M. C. A.; April 18, 1933, Annual Sweetheart banquet held at Hanley's Tea Room. Ralph Garner, Columbus, was the main speaker; May 4, 1933, Jim Reichelderfer, Harold Baughman, Bill Gunning, Russel Skaggs, elected president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, respectively to succeed Howard Ater, John Moore, John Mason and Paul Rooney; May 11, 1933, new officers installed into the club.

FOOTBALL

The football team was fairly successful this year, even if it did lose quite a few games. The fight that was always there, just couldn't be exerted at the proper time.

Graduation caused many holes in the team and these all had to be filled with comparatively green material.

Circleville lost five games, tied one, and finished on the long end of score twice. They lost to Lancaster St. Mary, Bexley, Delaware, Grandview, and Hillsboro. They tied with Lancaster High school and won from Westerville and Marysville. They can be given credit for the effort put forth by them.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra has had a very successful year. It has played many engagements in and out of the school. Those in the school are: mass meeting of Pickaway-co to discuss the Mort Plan of school finances, the plays, "The Show-Off," "Heart Trouble," "The King Rides By," and the music festival of the Circleville High School.

Those out of the school are: Two concerts at Camp Sherman, at the K. of P. Hall, The Father-Son banquet at the K. of P. Hall, and the broadcast over W A I U from the Southern Hotel.

RECOGNITION ASSEMBLY

A final recognition assembly was held Thursday afternoon in the auditorium.

The stage was first taken by Coach Herberholz, who called all football and basketball and lettermen to the stage. Following this, Miss Rains called all members of the girls' basketball squad to the stage. Next Mr. Herberholz award track letters to J. Jenkins, George Speakman, Bob Shadley, Fred Smith, Russell Skaggs, Bill Hegele, and Dean White. Bob Wilson and Fred Grant were then awarded cheer leaders' letters by E. I. Gephart.

C. F. Hax took the stage next and called all Thespian members of this year's plays and all members of the Quill and Scroll.

Next C. F. Zaenglein called all band letter men to the stage and then awarded official band certificates to Howard Ater, C. Glitt, William Crist, Terry Hitchcock, Bob Wilson, Ned Griner, C. Rader, L. Truex, E. McClure, and Glenn Weiler.

The last part of the program E. I. Gephart awarded certificates for safety work to Joe Bell, Horace Gilmore, Mark Maxey, David Steinhauser, Ned Harden, Richard Hernley, Allen Smith, and Bill Weldon.

EPSILON MU SIGMA

The E. M. S. meetnigs were held every three weeks at the homes of the members. The club divided into three groups, poetry, novel, and short story. The entertainment for each meeting was furnished by a member of each group.

The club gave a two act play in chapel called "The Village Skewl of Long a Go!" They also put out a scandel sheet, which was distributed by the members of the club.

The club made an annual trip to Columbus on April 26. During the day they visited the State Office building, the Feeble Minded Institution and the Ohio State Museum.

Otis Mader, Virginia Caskey, and Dorothy Bartley were elected as officers for next year.

TRACK

Circleville fared better in the league meet this year than they have in previous times. Grandview came in first using the same team that represented them last year. They won the district meet and finished fourth in the state meet. Circleville finished second to Grandview and Westerville came next. The Tigers were victorious in a meet with Westerville.

THE STAFF

During the first week of school a temporary staff was appointed by advisor Charles Hax. This staff has published the paper throughout the year. At Christmas 2 issues were published during vacation. This is the sixth year that the Red and Black has been published as a department of the Circlevillo Herald.

The Quill and Scroll began activities with five members. This enrollment was increased by the eligibility of Harry R. Hosler, Dorothy Bartley, Charlotte Moore, and Mary Helwagen.

JUNIOR GIRL RESERVES

The first meeting of the Junior Girl Reserves was called to order September 21. This meeting was to decide what new girls were to become members of the club. It was decided that 11 Freshmen girls would be initiated.

The club decided upon dividing into two hobby groups, the Music and Dramatics Group and the Athletic and Nature Group. Virginia Cady was elected president of the Athletic and Nature Group, and Doris Moffitt was elected Secretary. The president and secretary of the Music and Dramatics Group are Elizabeth Dowden, and Jane Drum. The Athletic and Nature Group took hikes and partook in various other sports during the year. The Music and Dramatics Group made a number of Girl Reserve Song books which contain the songs sung by the girls of both the Junior and Senior Girl Reserves.

The delightful social events given by the girls were: the Halloween party given October 27, to which all the girls came masked; the Christmas party given for poor school children, which was a huge success because of the appearance of Santa Claus and the gifts the children received; the Kid party to which everyone came dressed as a kid. The last meeting of the Athletic and Nature Group was a Treasure Hunt, at which all members and their friends were present. The Music and Dramatics Group closed their meetings with a party at the home of Bernice Liston.

During the year the club visited the St. Josephs, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian and the United Bretheran churches. At the last meeting the officers for the coming year and the delegate to be sent to the Girl Reserve Camp were elected.

BAND

Many band boys were swelling out their chests showing a large "C." There were requirements of which some did not complete. The most important of these is 2 years of band work; and be present at the majority of rehearsals and engagements. Those receiving band letters are as follows: C. Andrews, D. Ankrom, B. Ashbrook, Howard Ater, H. Baughman, V. Caskey, B. Crist, K. Davis, H. Doan, J. Foresman, D. Greenlee, G. Kreenlee, N. Griner, N. Harden, B. Helwagen, R. Hernley, T. Hitchcock, N. Hitchcock, Harry Hosler, C. Jackson, E. McClure, M. May, W. Pickel, N. Plum, C. Rader, G. Roth, J. Ruff, R. Teal, L. Truex, Rod Watts, B. Watts, G. Weiler, V. Weiler, R. Wilson, C. Glitt, P. Davis and B. Davis.

The Red and Black Staff wishes to thank the Circleville Herald for its cooperation in the publishing of the Red and Black this year.

SENIOR GIRL RESERVES

At the beginning of the year the following cabinet members were elected for the Senior Girl Reserves. Avanell Haecker, president; Sara Steinhauser, vice-president; Eleanor Davis, secretary-treasurer; Charlotte Caskey, service representative; Ellen Bennett, pep representative; Sara May, program representative; and the two advisors Miss Elma Rains and Miss Velma Watson.

Seven girls were initiated October 20, making a total of thirty eight members in the club.

The girls joined with the Hi-Y, in singing carols and attending Midnight services Xmas eve. The members also gave toys to the needy children.

On February 9 the Senior Reserves held a joint meeting with the Hi-Y.

A Mother-Daughter banquet was held April 27 at the high school for all members and their mothers.

Approximately $25 was made by the Girl Reserves on bake sales and candy sales.

The president for next year is Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick; vice-president, Margaret Bowers; and secretary-treasurer, Mary May.

Mary May was chosen as representative to the camp at Northwestern university.

NATIONAL THESPIANS

The Thespians under the direction of Charles Hax presented two plays during the year, "The Show-Off" and "Monkey Shines Revue."

The four presentations in dramastics given this year at the high school were very well received by the audience and each was a success.

A minstrel, "Monkey Shines Review," presented on December 14 and 15. It included 9 boys.

The "Show Off," a three-act comedy, was presented by the Thespians. This play had an entire staff of 20 members.

As a junior class play, "Heart Trouble" was presented April 8 and 9. The cast included 10 juniors.

"The King Rides By" was presented by the senior class on May 18 and 19 and included 25 seniors.

The Thespians pin was presented to Charlotte Caskey, Gene Rader and Bill Gunning in recognition of their work in these plays which were under the capable direction of Mr. Charles F. Hax.

JUNIOR SENIOR BANQUET

The final social event of the year was held May 30 at the high school building in the gymnasium which was decorated in blue and silver, the senior class colors. Approximately 40 members of the two classes, teachers and board members and their wives enjoyed the banquet. The school board and their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles May, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colville, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Goeller, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnhart and J. R. Noecker.

The entertainment was introduced by William Gunning, Junior Class President and was as follows: Vocal solo by Miss Johnda Tootle: toast, C. R. Barnhart; trumpet solo, Ned Griner; toast, Supt. J. O. Eagleson; tap dance, Paul Davis and a toast by C. F. Hax. The response was given by John Mason, senior class president. The Red and Black song concluded the evening.

The committees are as follows: Banquet committee: Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick, Margie Wolfe, Charlotte Moore, Harold Baughman and Billy Steele. Entertainment committee: Margaret Bower, Mary May, James Smith, Lyman England, Mary Helwagen and Dorothy Bartley. The decorating was done by Dale Ankrom, William Weldon, Polly Briggs, Robert Frieee, Helen Hetter and Martha Rader.

ANNUAL SALES

At the end of the annual sales this year there was some-what of advantage in the sales. Last year there was about 227 annuals sold. This year 15 more were sold than last year making a total of 242 annuals totaling $242.00.

The high salesman of the annuals just got over the line for a free annual. Charles Glitt the high seller sold ten. Each Senior must take three annuals and sell them if they can.

Harry R. Hosler, junior, is editor of this edition.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team this year was the most unfortunate one in several years. The team was a group which could have won but they just couldn't click at the proper time. Only two of last year's championship team returned which left three vacansies to be filled. Three comparatively inexperienced players were utilized in that direction. A number of the games were lost by two point margins; the winning spurt being missing.

The only league game won this year was at the expense of Bexley. A successful team is expected for next year with a complete team of letter men returning.

BAND

The band also had a successful year. Most of its engagements were out of school. The engagements are as follows. concert at Grand Theater, band festival at Bexley and Circleville, the home football games, provided two chapel programs, the annual meeting at Logan Elm, and two concerts at Veterans Hospital, Camp Sherman, Chillicothe. The band also played in the school festival.

The band has two more engagements the first one is on Sunday, June 11, for the K. of P. lodge memorial services. The Monday following June 11, on June the 12 the band will play for the Red Men's convention.

All band members will be in full dress uniform.

METAL WORK

The boys in the metal works had a new experience this year. Four new trailers were made, one of which is used for any purpose of the school. The boys with their regular work of forging and making different articles all helped work on these trailers. These boys in alphabetical order: John Ammer, Lee Cook, Lawrence Dowden, Edgar McClure, Charles Rader, Lloyd Truex, Glen Weiler.

GLEE CLUBS GIVE PROGRAM

Circleville high schools five glee clubs, The Freshman Boy's Glee Club, The Freshman Girl's The Boy's, The Girl's Glee Club, and the Senior Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Johnda Tootle, presented an assembly program, Monday morning.

The freshman boys took the platform first singing "Those Pals Of Ours," by Greaton and Cole. They were followed by the freshman girls, who sang a series of three numbers; namely, "Lullaby of the Dwarfs," by Reinecke. The "Primrose," composed by Gelehrist and Berceuse, a "Basque Melody." Next the Boy's Glee Club sang "Widdecombe Fair," an English song arranged by Cecil Forsythe, and "Passing By," by Purcell. Following this the Senior Glee Club sang, "Under the Silver Stars," a Cuban song. The program closed with the Girl's Glee Club singing "Now Is The Month of Maying," by Marley, "May Carol," composed by Deems Taylor and "Chinese Lullaby" from "East Is West."

The Freshman Boy's Glee Clubs, The Freshman Girls and the Boys Glee Club are only a few months old, while the other two clubs are two years old.

FORGOT HIS HAT

NEW YORK—A man who told police he was John Smith, fell seven stories from a window and walked up stairs again, unhurt, to get his hat. Smith was visiting a friend in the seventh floor of an apartment hotel. Leaning out of the window, his elbow slipped. The next thing he knew he had struck an awning running from a restaurant in the hotel to the street. The awning broke his fall.

ASHVILLE

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES

In memory of those who laid down their lives—made the supreme sacrifice—that we might live. Appropriate services were held at the township cemetery, near South Bloomfield, Tuesday at 10 a. m.

The procession formed in the village and headed by the Ashville Community band under the leadership of Fred J. Hines, marched to the cemetery near by. Mayor Colahan presided and introduced Rev. Morrison, their local M. E. minister, who gave a most interesting address. Selections by the band and a declamation by a young miss made up the program.

The graves were lovingly decorated by a company of young folks.
